Annual Report

March 31, 2006

SHAREHOLDER LETTER

March 31, 2006

To Our Shareholders:

The Clough Global Allocation Fund's closing market price on March 31, 2006 was $23.99, an increase from its market price of $22.59 as of May 31, 2005. In addition, $1.72 per share in distributions were paid during the period, so the Fund's total return to shareholders, including reinvested dividends, based on market price was 13.85%. Meanwhile the Fund's underlying net asset value has increased, including reinvested dividends, 25.99% from $20.78 to $24.42 during the period.

Sometimes the popular trade is the right trade. Our energy shortage theme continues to be the largest component of the portfolio, particularly since the stocks have not moved up with the rise in crude oil. After outperforming for nearly three years, oil stocks began to correct back in late September 2005. Many natural gas stocks are well off their highs of last autumn. Nevertheless, as an investment theme we think energy has years to run. Our reason for thinking this is the huge capital needs required to bring on new hydrocarbon supplies. Since 2001, Exxon Mobil Corp has continued to significantly increase its capital expenditures, but the company's production of oil and gas over the past five years has still declined. OPEC production hardly rose in 2005 despite a doubling of prices, indicating the absence of a supply response to higher oil prices. Meanwhile, global demand for both crude oil and specifically for gasoline in the U.S. is higher year-on-year.

Commodities are for the most part supply driven, and if depletion rates for the world's major oil and gas fields are accelerating, and new supplies of consequence must come from as of yet undeveloped deep water reservoirs, it will be years before relief from high oil and gas prices is seen. It is estimated that development costs for new underwater fields may total $1.5 to $2.5 trillion. This has several consequences.

1) The equity market capitalizations for oil and gas producers should rise. While a new oil exchange traded fund designed to track the level of crude oil prices has recently been introduced, we think investing in producing companies will be more rewarding than buying the commodity. Producers benefit from compounding cash flow returns even in a static high oil price world. A producer with long lived reserves should generate huge cash on cash returns, even if oil prices level off, for years. Earnings gains may slow in the absence of even higher prices, but equity values should continue to rise as free cash builds. Multiples are low on current estimates and the companies in this sector have little to no debt on their balance sheets.

2) The entire equity market value of the oil service supplier industry is a small amount relative to the trillions of dollars about to be spent on oil field development. The Philadelphia Oil Service Index (OSX), which measures such things, was 145 in 1998; it stands at a little over 200 today. Yet Transocean Corp's contract to supply a new drill-ship capable of drilling in 12,000 feet of water, a $650 million investment, gives that company visibility out to 2014 on some of its contracts.

3) Today the natural gas producer stocks are off their late 2005 highs as high gas inventories and weak near-term prices are depressing the stocks. But excess gas supplies, the result of the warmest winter in 100 years, amount to a small percentage of annual usage. With gas well depletion rates running up to 30% annually, a warm summer with its attendant air conditioning needs would create renewed shortage.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

We are also selectively invested in the metals sector where supplies remain tighter than many suspect. The financial markets are only now beginning to recognize the structural shortages inherent in the raw materials trade. Robust demand appears to be sustainable as infrastructure growth in developing economies looks to continue. New supplies are subject to long development timelines and rising marginal costs. China's high savings rate keeps the cost of capital low and import needs for metals like copper and nickel will remain high. Media commentary of an inevitable natural resources bust appears to be far too anticipatory. The Financial Times quoted a McQuarie forecast that Chinese steelmakers will double production by 2010. That incremental tonnage is equal to the entire output European steelmakers produce today. China needs the steel and that is good for our holdings of iron ore producers.

Our funds are heavily leveraged to the forces of globalization. We think global capital flows will continue to increase and asset values will rise, particularly in Asia, Latin America and Eastern Europe. Japan in particular has become a source of global capital as it moves its M&A activity offshore. Corporate profits are strong and corporate debt in Japan is now below pre-bubble period. As the world comes to realize that even a U.S. consumption slowdown is unlikely to derail these economies, the investment dynamics in those regions will change, and growth will continue for industries whose demand is determined by what is occurring there. For example, the price of energy is determined as much by the economies in Asia, as in our North American futures markets. Non-China Asia and Japan are projected by the World Bank to enjoy growth of 6% or more this year.

We are invested in Japan. For years, Japan's economy was the weakest of any developed nation. Today it is among the strongest, with domestic wages and salaries growing 3 1/2% annually. We think cash flows are high and balance sheets are strong, which is helpful because the economy's aged housing and business capital stocks need replacement. This provides a prescription for a strong domestic consumption and capital spending cycle. Domestic investors in Japan meanwhile are beginning to move their massive savings into stocks. Moreover, the Yen appears seriously undervalued and we think its recovery will add to our returns over time.

It is important to note many emerging markets are small, yet their economies have built a lot of wealth which we think is not yet reflected in their equities markets. In the U.S. markets, industry sectors that are leveraged to globalization represent perhaps 15-17% of the S&P 500 and the bulk of that is energy. We think over time it could migrate upwards of 30%.

The U.S. economy has proven remarkably resilient as the forces of globalization have overwhelmed the forces of U.S. debt liquidation, but that could change. The weak link in the global economy is the U.S. consumer and everyone recognizes that. Consumer stocks have been weak for years. Later this year, nearly 20% of outstanding adjustable rate mortgages will reprice upwards and as the Fed moves toward a 5% Fed Funds Rate, the cost of financial sector liabilities like deposits and bank prime rates will likely move upwards as well. If there are weak balance sheets out there, we think that should soon become visible as marginal borrowers and lenders get squeezed. Given the large rise in household debt in this cycle, there is a tipping point to consumer spending somewhere at a Fed Funds rate that may not be too far from today's. Yet, the global economy still enjoys a large liquidity overhang, and it is our view that once U.S. consumption slows and the Fed signals it has tightened enough, bond yields should fall and the globalization trade will likely do well.

(1) Total investment return is calculated assuming a purchase of a common share at the opening on the first day and a sale at closing on the last day of each period reported. Total investment return on net asset value excludes a sales load of $0.90 per share for the period. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for purposes of this calculation to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan. Total investment returns do not reflect brokerage commissions. Total investment returns for less than a full year are not annualized. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

(3) Ratios do not reflect dividend payments to preferred shareholders.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2006

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND OPERATING POLICIES

Clough Global Allocation Fund is a closed-end management investment company (the Fund) that was organized under the laws of the state of Delaware by an Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated April 27, 2004. The Fund is a non-diversified series with an investment objective to provide a high level of total return. The Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustees may authorize separate classes of shares of beneficial interest.

Security Valuation: The net asset value per Share of the Fund is determined no less frequently than daily, on each day that the American Stock Exchange (the Exchange) is open for trading, as of the close of regular trading on the Exchange (normally 4:00 p.m. New York time). Trading may take place in foreign issues held by the Fund at times when the Fund is not open for business. As a result, the Fund's net asset value may change at times when it is not possible to purchase or sell shares of the Fund. Securities held by the fund for which exchange quotations are readily available are valued at the last sale price, or if no sale price or if traded on the over-the-counter market, at the mean of the bid and asked prices on such day. Over-the-counter securities traded on NASDAQ are valued based upon the closing price. Debt securities for which the over-the-counter market is the primary market are normally valued on the basis of prices furnished by one or more pricing services at the mean between the latest available bid and asked prices. As authorized by the Trustees, debt securities (other than short-term obligations) may be valued on the basis of valuations furnished by a pricing service which determines valuations based upon market transactions for normal, institutional-size trading units of securities. Short-term obligations maturing within 60 days are valued at amortized cost, which approximates value, unless the Trustees determine that under particular circumstances such method does not result in fair value. Over-the-counter options are valued at the mean between bid and asked prices provided by dealers. Financial futures contracts listed on commodity exchanges and exchange-traded options are valued at closing settlement prices. Securities for which there is no such quotation or valuation and all other assets are valued at fair value in good faith by or at the direction of the Trustees.

Foreign Securities: The Fund may invest a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event that the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund will generally enter into a forward foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. Foreign securities may carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political, market and currency risks.

The accounting records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Prices of securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the closing rates of exchange at period end. Amounts related to the purchase and sale of foreign securities and investment income are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

The effect of changes in foreign currency exchange rates on investments is included with the fluctuations arising from changes in market values of securities held and reported with all other foreign currency gains and losses in the Fund's Statement of Operations.

Options: The Fund may purchase or write (sell) put and call options. One of the risks associated with purchasing an option among others, is that the Fund pays a premium whether or not the option is exercised. Additionally, the Fund bears the risk of loss of premium and change in market value should the counterparty not perform under the contract. Put and call options purchased are accounted for in the same manner as portfolio securities. The cost of securities acquired through the exercise of call options is increased by premiums paid. The proceeds from securities sold through the exercise of put options are decreased by the premiums paid.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

When the Fund writes an option, an amount equal to the premium received by the Fund is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current value of the option written. Premiums received from writing options that expire unexercised are treated by the Fund on the expiration date as realized gains from investments. The difference between the premium and the amount paid on effecting a closing purchase transaction, including brokerage commissions, is also treated as a realized gain, or, if the premium is less than the amount paid for the closing purchase transaction, as a realized loss. If a call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security or currency in determining whether the Fund has realized a gain or loss. If a put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the securities purchased by the Fund. The Fund, as writer of an option, bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the security underlying the written option. Written and purchased options are non-income producing securities.

Written option activity as of March 31, 2006 was as follows:

Written Put Options	Contracts	Premiums
Outstanding, May 31, 2005	6,200	$ 1,104,985
Positions opened	24,400	1,539,130
Expired	(17,150)	(2,024,181)
Closed	(2,000)	(127,995)
Split	750
Outstanding, March 31, 2006	12,200	$ 491,939
Market Value, March 31, 2006		$ (69,750)

Short Sales: The Fund may sell a security it does not own in anticipation of a decline in the fair value of that security. When the Fund sells a security short, it must borrow the security sold short and deliver it to the broker-dealer through which it made the short sale. A gain, limited to the price at which the Fund sold the security short, or a loss, unlimited in size, will be recognized upon the termination of the short sale.

Income Taxes: The Fund's policy is to comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required.

Distributions to Shareholders: The Fund intends to make a level dividend distribution each quarter to Common Shareholders after payment of interest on any outstanding borrowings or dividends on any outstanding preferred shares. The level dividend rate may be modified by the Board of Trustees from time to time. Any net capital gains earned by the Fund are distributed at least annually to the extent necessary to avoid federal income and excise taxes. Distributions to shareholders are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. The Fund has applied to the Securities and Exchange Commission for an exemption from Section 19(b) of the 1940 Act and Rule 19b-1 thereunder permitting the Fund to make periodic distributions of long-term capital gains, provided that the distribution policy of the Fund with respect to its Common Shares calls for periodic (e.g., quarterly/monthly) distributions in an amount equal to a fixed percentage of the Fund's average net asset value over a specified period of time or market price per common share at or about the time of distribution or pay-out of a level dollar amount.

Securities Transactions and Investment Income: Investment security transactions are accounted for as of trade date. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income, which includes amortization of premium and accretion of discount, is accrued as earned. Realized gains and losses from securities transactions and unrealized appreciation and depreciation of securities are determined using the highest cost basis for both financial reporting and income tax purposes.

Use of Estimates: The Fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

2. TAXES

Classification of Distributions: Net investment income (loss) and net realized gain (loss) may differ for financial statement and tax purposes. The character of distributions made during the year from net investment income or net realized gains may differ from its ultimate characterization for federal income tax purposes.

The tax character of the distributions paid by the Fund during the periods ended March 31, 2006 and May 31, 2005, was as follows:

	2006	2005
Distributions paid from:
Ordinary Income	$ 18,882,699	$ 10,404,026
Long-Term Capital Gain	1,400,296
Total	$ 20,282,995	$ 10,404,026

Components of Earnings: Tax components of distributable earnings are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from composition of net assets reported under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Accordingly, for the period ended March 31, 2006, certain differences were reclassified. The Fund decreased accumulated net investment loss by $12,250,143, decreased accumulated net realized gain by $12,247,490 and decreased paid in capital by $2,653. These differences were primarily due to the differing tax treatment of foreign currency and certain other investments and the tax treatment of distributions.

As of March 31, 2006, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed net investment income	12,368,546
Accumulated net realized gain	6,026,206
Unrealized appreciation	35,571,292
Total	$ 53,966,044

Net unrealized appreciation/depreciation of investments based on federal tax cost as of March 31, 2006, were as follows:

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

Gross appreciation (excess of value over tax cost)		43,967,239
Gross depreciation (excess of tax cost over value)		(6,492,473)
Net unrealized appreciation		37,474,766
Cost of investments for income tax purpose	$	305,517,294

3. CAPITAL TRANSACTIONS

Transactions in common shares were as follows:

	For the Period Ended March 31, 2006	For the Period Ended May 31, 2005

Preferred Shares: On September 15, 2004, the Fund's Board of Trustees authorized the issuance of an unlimited number of no par value preferred shares, in addition to the existing common shares, as part of the Fund's leverage strategy. Preferred shares issued by the Fund have seniority over the common shares.

The Fund is subject to certain limitations and restrictions while preferred shares are outstanding. Failure to comply with these limitations and restrictions could preclude the Fund from declaring any dividends or distributions to common shareholders or repurchasing common shares and/or could trigger the mandatory redemption of Preferred Shares at their liquidation value. Specifically, the Fund is required under the Investment Company Act of 1940 to maintain an asset coverage with respect to the outstanding preferred shares of 200% or greater.

The Fund has one series of Auction Market Preferred Shares (AMPS), W28. On December 1, 2004, the Fund issued 3,800 shares of AMPS with a net asset and liquidation value of $25,000 per share plus accrued dividends. Dividends on the AMPS are cumulative and are paid based on an annual rate set through auction procedures. Distributions of net realized capital gains, if any, are paid annually. As of March 31, 2006, the annualized dividend rate for the AMPS was 4.75%. The dividend rate, as set by the auction process, is generally expected to vary with short-term interest rates. The rate may vary in a manner unrelated to the income received on the Fund's assets, which could have either a beneficial or detrimental impact on net investment income and gains available to Common Shareholders. Preferred Shares, which are entitled to one vote per share, generally vote with the Common Shares but vote separately as a class to elect two Trustees and on any matters affecting the rights of the Preferred Shares.

4. PORTFOLIO SECURITIES

Purchases and sales of investment securities, other than short-term securities, for the period ended March 31, 2006 aggregated $544,428,876 and $586,349,259, respectively. Purchase and sales of U.S. government and agency securities, other than short-term securities, for the period ended March 31, 2006 aggregated $114,753,808 and $169,242,221, respectively.

5. INVESTMENT ADVISORY AND ADMINISTRATION AGREEMENTS

Clough Capital Partners L.P. (Clough) serves as the Fund's investment adviser pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement with the Fund. As compensation for its services to the Fund, Clough receives an annual investment advisory fee of 0.70% based on the Fund's average daily total assets, computed daily and payable monthly.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

ALPS Mutual Funds Services, Inc. (ALPS) serves as the Fund's administrator pursuant to an Administration, Bookkeeping and Pricing Services Agreement with the Fund. As compensation for its services to the Fund, ALPS receives an annual administration fee of 0.285% based on the Fund's average daily total assets, computed daily and payable monthly. ALPS will pay all expenses incurred by the Fund, with the exception of advisory fees, trustees' fees, portfolio transaction expenses, litigation expenses, taxes, cost of preferred shares, expenses of conducting repurchase offers for the purpose of repurchasing fund shares, and extraordinary expenses.

6. OTHER

The Independent Trustees of the Fund receive a quarterly retainer of $3,500 and an additional $1,500 for each meeting attended.

As approved by the Board of Trustees of the Fund, the fiscal year-end changed to March 31, effective March 15, 2006.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

March 31, 2006 (unaudited)

Unless the registered owner of Common Shares elects to receive cash by contacting The Bank of New York (the Plan Administrator or BONY), all dividends declared on Common Shares will be automatically reinvested by the Plan Administrator for shareholders in the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the Plan), in additional Common Shares. Shareholders who elect not to participate in the Plan will receive all dividends and other distributions in cash paid by check mailed directly to the shareholder of record (or, if the Common Shares are held in street or other nominee name, then to such nominee) by BONY as dividend disbursing agent. You may elect not to participate in the Plan and to receive all dividends in cash by contacting BONY, as dividend disbursing agent, at the address set forth below. Participation in the Plan is completely voluntary and may be terminated or resumed at any time without penalty by notice if received and processed by the Plan Administrator prior to the dividend record date; otherwise such termination or resumption will be effective with respect to any subsequently declared dividend or other distribution. Some brokers may automatically elect to receive cash on your behalf and may re-invest that cash in additional Common Shares for you. If you wish for all dividends declared on your Common Shares to be automatically reinvested pursuant to the Plan, please contact your broker.

The Plan Administrator will open an account for each Common Shareholder under the Plan in the same name in which such Common Shareholder's Common Shares are registered. Whenever the Fund declares a dividend or other distribution (together, a Dividend) payable in cash, non-participants in the Plan will receive cash and participants in the Plan will receive the equivalent in Common Shares. The Common Shares will be acquired by the Plan Administrator for the participants' accounts, depending upon the circumstances described below, either (i) through receipt of additional unissued but authorized Common Shares from the Fund (Newly Issued Common Shares) or (ii) by purchase of outstanding Common Shares on the open market (Open-Market Purchases) on the American Stock Exchange or elsewhere. If, on the payment date for any Dividend, the closing market price plus estimated brokerage commissions per Common Share is equal to or greater than the net asset value per Common Share, the Plan Administrator will invest the Dividend amount in Newly Issued Common Shares on behalf of the participants. The number of Newly Issued Common Shares to be credited to each participant's account will be determined by dividing the dollar amount of the Dividend by the net asset value per Common Share on the payment date; provided that, if the net asset value is less than or equal to 95% of the closing market value on the payment date, the dollar amount of the Dividend will be divided by 95% of the closing market price per Common Share on the payment date. If, on the payment date for any Dividend, the net asset value per Common Share is greater than the closing market value plus estimated brokerage commissions, the Plan Administrator will invest the Dividend amount in Common Shares acquired on behalf of the participants in Open-Market Purchases. In the event of a market discount on the payment date for any Dividend, the Plan Administrator will have until the last business day before the next date on which the Common Shares trade on an ex-dividend basis or 30 days after the payment date for such Dividend, whichever is sooner (the Last Purchase Date), to invest the Dividend amount in Common Shares acquired in Open-Market Purchases. If, before the Plan Administrator has completed its Open-Market Purchases, the market price per Common Share exceeds the net asset value per Common Share, the average per Common Share purchase price paid by the Plan Administrator may exceed the net asset value of the Common Shares, resulting in the acquisition of fewer Common Shares than if the Dividend had been paid in Newly Issued Common Shares on the Dividend payment date. Because of the foregoing difficulty with respect to Open-Market Purchases, the Plan provides that if the Plan Administrator is unable to invest the full Dividend amount in Open-Market Purchases during the purchase period or if the market discount shifts to a market premium during the purchase period, the Plan Administrator may cease making Open-Market Purchases and may invest the uninvested portion of the Dividend amount in Newly Issued Common Shares at the net asset value per Common Share at the close of business on the Last Purchase Date provided that, if the net asset value is less than or equal to 95% of the then current market price per Common Share; the dollar amount of the Dividend will be divided by 95% of the market price on the payment date.

The Plan Administrator maintains all shareholders' accounts in the Plan and furnishes written confirmation of all transactions in the accounts, including information needed by shareholders for tax records. Common Shares in the account of each Plan participant will be held by the Plan Administrator on behalf of the Plan participant, and each shareholder proxy will include those shares purchased or received pursuant to the Plan. The Plan Administrator will forward all proxy solicitation materials to participants and vote proxies for shares held under the Plan in accordance with the instructions of the participants. In the case of Common Shareholders such as banks, brokers or nominees which hold shares for others who are the beneficial owners, the Plan Administrator will administer the Plan on the basis of the number of Common Shares certified from time to time by the record shareholder's name and held for the account of beneficial owners who participate in the Plan.

There will be no brokerage charges with respect to Common Shares issued directly by the Fund. However, each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred in connection with Open-Market Purchases. The automatic reinvestment of Dividends will not relieve participants of any federal, state or local income tax that may be payable (or required to be withheld) on such Dividends. Participants that request a sale of Common Shares through the Plan Administrator are subject to brokerage commissions. The Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan. There is no direct service charge to participants with regard to purchases in the Plan; however, the Fund reserves the right to amend the Plan to include a service charge payable by the participants.

All correspondence or questions concerning the Plan should be directed to the Plan Administrator, The Bank of New York, 101 Barclay Street, New York, New York 10286, 20th Floor, Transfer Agent Services, (800) 433-8191.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

As of March 31, 2006, the Portfolio Managers listed above are also responsible for the day-to-day management of the following:

PM Name	Registered Investment Companies	Other Pooled Investment Vehicles (1)	Other Accounts	Material Conflicts If Any
Charles I Clough, Jr.	3 Accounts $1,084.7 million Total Assets	3 Accounts $364.0 million Total Assets	3 Accounts $150.2 million Total Assets	See below (2)
Eric A. Brock	3 Accounts $1,084.7 million Total Assets	3 Accounts $364.0 million Total Assets	3 Accounts $150.2 million Total Assets	See below (2)
James E. Canty	3 Accounts $1,084.7 million Total Assets	3 Accounts $364.0 million Total Assets	3 Accounts $150.2 million Total Assets	See below (2)

(1) Advisory fee based in part on performance of accounts.

(2) Material Conflicts:

Material conflicts of interest may arise as a result of the fact that the Portfolio Managers also have day-to-day management responsibilities with respect to both the Fund and the various accounts listed above (collectively with the Fund, the Accounts). These potential conflicts include:

Limited Resources. The Portfolio Managers cannot devote their full time and attention to the management of each of the Accounts. Accordingly, the Portfolio Managers may be limited in their ability to identify investment opportunities for each of the Accounts that are as attractive as might be the case if the Portfolio Managers were to devote substantially more attention to the management of a single Account. The effects of this potential conflict may be more pronounced where the Accounts have different investment strategies.

Limited Investment Opportunities. If the Portfolio Managers identify a limited investment opportunity that may be appropriate for more than one Account, the investment opportunity may be allocated among several Accounts. This could limit any single Account's ability to take full advantage of an investment opportunity that might not be limited if the Portfolio Managers did not provide investment advice to other Accounts.

Different Investment Strategies. The Accounts managed by the Portfolio Managers have differing investment strategies. If the Portfolio Managers determine that an investment opportunity may be appropriate for only some of the Accounts or decide that certain of the Accounts should take different positions with respect to a particular security, the Portfolio Managers may effect transactions for one or more Accounts which may affect the market price of the security or the execution of the transaction, or both, to the detriment or benefit of one or more other Accounts.

Variation in Compensation. A conflict of interest may arise where Clough or Clough Associates, LLC, as applicable, is compensated differently by the Accounts that are managed by the Portfolio Managers. If certain Accounts pay higher management fees or performance-based incentive fees, the Portfolio Managers might be motivated to prefer certain Accounts over others. The Portfolio Managers might also be motivated to favor Accounts in which they have a greater ownership interest or Accounts that are more likely to enhance the Portfolio Managers' performance record or to otherwise benefit the Portfolio Managers.

Selection of Brokers. The Portfolio Managers select the brokers that execute securities transactions for the Accounts that they supervise. In addition to executing trades, some brokers provide the Portfolio Managers with research and other services which may require the payment of higher brokerage fees than might otherwise be available. The Portfolio Managers' decision as to the selection of brokers could yield disproportionate costs and benefits among the Accounts that they manage, since the research and other services provided by brokers may be more beneficial to some Accounts than to others.

(a)(3) Portfolio Manager Compensation as of March 31, 2006.

The Portfolio Managers each receive a fixed base salary from Clough. The base salary for each Portfolio Manager is typically determined based on market factors and the skill and experience of each Portfolio Manager. Additionally, Clough distributes its annual net profits to the three Portfolio Managers, with Mr. Clough receiving a majority share and the remainder being divided evenly between Mr. Brock and Mr. Canty.

(a)(4) Dollar Range of Securities Owned as of March 31, 2006.

Portfolio Manager	Dollar Range of Equity Securities Held in Registrant (1)
