NOTE 1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization - Onny Investment Limited ("Onny") was incorporated in the British Virgin Islands on January 12, 2005. Through June 15, 2005, Onny was a development stage enterprise with no development stage activities except for the acquisition of Helpson, as discussed below. Upon the acquisition of Hainan Helpson Medical Biotechnology Co., Ltd ("Helpson") and its operations, Onny emerged from the development stage.

On April 12, 2005, Onny issued 100 shares of common stock to Tsui Hueng Mei ("Ms. Tsui") in exchange for Y8 in cash. Ms. Tsui also elected herself as Onny's sole director.

On June 16, 2005, the Company acquired all the outstanding shares of Helpson. See Note 2.

On October 20, 2005, Onny was reorganized as a wholly-owned subsidiary of TS Electronics, Inc. The reorganization was accomplished by Ms. Tsui exchanging her 29,700 Onny common shares for 20,555,329 common shares of TS Electronics, Inc. and for the commitment by TS Electronics, Inc. to issue Ms. Tsui 4,723,056 common shares following an amendment of the TS Electronics, Inc. articles of incorporation increasing the number of common shares authorized to 100,000,000 shares, which exchange of shares was on an 851-for-1 exchange ratio. In addition, the prior Onny preferred shareholders exchanged their 10,000 Onny common shares for 6,944,611 common shares of TS Electronics, Inc. which exchange was on a 694-for-1 exchange ratio. (The issuance of the preferred shares, conversion into Onny common shares and the exchange for TS Electronics, Inc. common shares are not presented herein). The reorganization of Onny into TS Electronics, Inc. was recognized as a stock split of the common stock of Onny and the effective issuance by Onny of the 2,500,060 shares of common stock of TS Electronics, Inc. that remained outstanding in exchange for the assumption of Y37,021 of liabilities. The reverse acquisition of TS Electronics, Inc. was recognized as a nonmonetary exchange and has been included in the accompanying consolidated financial statements as though the transaction between Onny and TS Electronics, Inc. had occurred on September 30, 2005.

Nature of Operations - Helpson manufactures and markets several Western and Chinese medicines sold mainly to hospitals and private sellers in PRC, through its marketing department in Hainan Province and from nine sales representative offices in other provinces and cities. Helpson's other operating activities include biochemical products, health products, and cosmetics.

Accounting Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Consolidation and Basis of Presentation - The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts and operations of Onny from the date of its inception on January 12, 2005, the accounts and operations of Helpson from the date of its acquisition on June 16, 2005, and the accounts and operations of TS Electronics, Inc. from September 30, 2005. The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been restated on a retroactive basis for the effects of the stock split resulting from the reorganization of Onny into TS Electronics, Inc. All significant inter-company balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The Company's functional currency is the Chinese Yuan (Renminbi) and the accompanying financial statements have been expressed in Chinese Yuan (Renminbi).

Fair Values of Financial Instruments --Based on the borrowing rates currently available to the Company for bank loans with similar terms and average maturities, the carrying amounts of notes payable approximate fair value because of either the immediate or short-term maturity of these financial instruments or because the underlying instruments are at interest rates which approximate current market rates.

Cash and cash equivalents - Cash and cash equivalents include interest bearing and non-interest bearing bank deposits, money market accounts, and short-term certificates of deposit with original maturities of three months or less.

Trade receivables and allowance for doubtful accounts - Trade receivables are carried at original invoiced amounts less an allowance for doubtful accounts.

The Company presents trade receivables net of allowances for doubtful accounts, to ensure trade receivables are not overstated due to uncollectibility. The allowances are calculated based on detailed review of certain individual customer accounts and an estimation of the overall economic conditions affecting the Company's customer base. The Company reviews a customer's credit history before extending credit. If the financial condition of its customers were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional allowances may be required.

Provision is made against accounts receivable to the extent they are considered unlikely to be collected. It is common practice in China for receivables to extend beyond one year. Included in trade receivables is approximately Y1,780,000 that occurred more than one year from September 30, 2005, but is estimated to still be collectable.

Inventory - Inventories are stated at weighted average costing. The method of determining inventory costs is used consistently from year to year. Allowance for inventory obsolescence is provided in situation when its market values are lower than its costs at the year end valuation.

Valuation of Long-lived Assets - The carrying values of the Company's long-lived assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that they may not be recoverable. When such an event occurs, the Company would project undiscounted cash flows to be generated from the use of the asset and its eventual disposition over the remaining life of the asset. If projections were to indicate that the carrying value of the long-lived asset will not be recovered, the carrying value is reduced by the estimated excess of the carrying value over the projected discounted cash flows.

Property and Equipment - Property and equipment are stated at cost. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred and major improvements are capitalized. Gains or losses on sales or retirements are included in the statements of operations in the period of disposition, determined by reference to their carrying amounts.

Edgar Filing: TS ELECTRONICS INC - Form 10QSB

Intangible Assets - Acquisition costs on patents, trademarks, licenses, techniques, formulas and other intangibles are capitalized and amortized using the straight-line method over their useful lives. For those intangible assets, such as patents, with legal protection over a period, their useful life is the protected period. Others that do not have legal protection periods, are amortized generally over 5 to 10 years. The Company does not capitalize internally generated intangible assets.

Intangible assets are techniques for medicines. Amortization on intangible assets was Y41,372 for the period from January 12, 2005 through September 30, 2005.

Advances to Suppliers and Advances from Customers - The Company, as is the common practice in the PRC, will often pay advanced payments to suppliers for materials and receive from customers advances for finished products. As of September 30, 2005, the advances to suppliers were Y397,483 and the advances from customers were Y2,375,880, respectively.

Revenue Recognition - The Company recognizes revenue when it is realized and earned. The Company considers revenue realized or realizable and earned when (1) it has persuasive evidence of an arrangement, (2) delivery has occurred, (3) the sales price is fixed or determinable, and (4) collectability is reasonably assured. Delivery does not occur until products have been shipped to the client, risk of loss has transferred to the client and client acceptance has been obtained, client acceptance provisions have lapsed, or the Company has objective evidence that the criteria specified in client acceptance provisions have been satisfied. The sales price is not considered to be fixed or determinable until all contingencies related to the sale have been resolved.

Cost of Revenues - Cost of revenues include wages, materials, handling charges, and other expenses associated with the manufacture and delivery of product.

Research and Development - Research and development expenditures are recorded as expenses in the period in which they occur.

Retirement Benefit Plans - The Company contributes to various employee retirement benefit plans organized by provincial governments under which it is required to make monthly contributions to these plans at rates prescribed by the related provincial governments. The provincial governments undertake to assume the retirement benefit obligations of all existing and future retired employees of the Company. Contributions to these plans are charged to expense as incurred.

Advertising Costs - Advertising costs are expensed when incurred.

Basic and Diluted Earnings per Common Share - Basic earnings per common share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted earnings per common share is calculated to give effect to potentially issuable dilutive common shares. There were no potential common shares outstanding at September 30, 2005.

Credit risk - The carrying amounts of accounts receivable included in the balance sheets represent the Company's exposure to credit risk in relation to its financial assets. No other financial assets carry a significant exposure to credit risk.

The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of each customer's financial condition. It maintains allowances for doubtful accounts and such allowances in the aggregate have not exceeded management's estimations.

Interest rate risk - The Company is exposed to the risk arising from changing interest rates, which may affect the ability of repayment of existing debts and viability of securing future debt instruments within the PRC.

Recently Enacted Accounting Standards - In November 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued SFAS No. 151, Inventory Costs--An Amendment of ARB No. 43, Chapter 4 ("SFAS 151"). SFAS 151 amends the guidance in ARB No. 43, Chapter 4, Inventory Pricing, to clarify the accounting for abnormal amounts of idle facility expense, freight, handling costs, and wasted material (spoilage). Among other provisions, the new rule requires that items such as idle facility expense, excessive spoilage, double freight, and re-handling costs be recognized as current-period charges regardless of whether they meet the criterion of "so abnormal" as stated in ARB No. 43. Additionally, SFAS 151 requires that the allocation of fixed production overhead to the costs of conversion be based on the normal capacity of the production facilities. SFAS 151 is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2005 and is required to be adopted by the Company beginning on January 1, 2006.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment ("SFAS 123R"), which revises SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. SFAS 123R also supersedes APB 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and amends SFAS No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows. In general, the accounting required by SFAS 123R is similar to that of SFAS No. 123. However, SFAS No. 123 gave companies a choice to either recognize the fair value of stock options in their income statements or disclose the pro forma income statement effect of the fair value of stock options in the notes to the financial statements. SFAS 123R eliminates that choice and requires the fair value of all share-based payments to employees, including the fair value of grants of employee stock options, be recognized in the income statement, generally over the option vesting period. SFAS 123R must be adopted no later than July 1, 2005. Early adoption is permitted.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 153, Exchanges of Non-monetary Assets--An Amendment of APB Opinion No. 29, Accounting for Non-monetary Transactions ("SFAS 153"). SFAS 153 eliminates the exception from fair value measurement for non-monetary exchanges of similar productive assets in paragraph 21(b) of APB Opinion No. 29, Accounting for Non-monetary Transactions, and replaces it with an exception for exchanges that do not have commercial substance. SFAS 153 specifies that a non-monetary exchange have commercial substance if the future cash flows of the entity are expected to change significantly as a result of the exchange.

The adoption of these pronouncements is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

NOTE 2. ACQUISITION

On May 25, 2005, the Company entered into an agreement with the shareholders of Helpson, a privately held Chinese joint venture, in which the Company agreed to acquire and the shareholders of Helpson agreed to sell all of the outstanding common shares of Helpson to the Company in exchange for the assumption of obligations to make cash payments to the Helpson shareholders in the form of common stock dividends from Helpson of Y34,076,800, the assumption of Y38,115,843 of other liabilities and the issuance of non-interest bearing promissory notes totaling Y28,000,000 payable three months after Helpson obtains a business license in the People's Republic of China as a wholly foreign owned entity. Helpson obtained such license on June 16, 2005 and the shares of Helpson were transferred to the Company on that date. June 16, 2005 was recognized as the date of the acquisition. The promissory notes are due September 16, 2005.

Helpson manufactures and markets several Western and Chinese medicines sold mainly to hospitals and private sellers in the Peoples Republic of China, through its marketing department in Hainan Province and from nine sales representative offices in other provinces and cities. Helpson's other operating activities include biochemical products, health products, and cosmetics.

Since Helpson is an operating company and control of Helpson changed upon the closing of the acquisition agreement, the Company is the accounting acquirer and has recognized the acquisition of Helpson as a business combination in accordance with Statements of Financial Accounting Standards No. 141, Business Combinations. On April 25, 2005, Helpson declared a dividend to the selling shareholders of Y34,076,800, which equaled Helpson's retained earnings at March 31, 2005 less deferred income tax assets of Y713,565 that are not considered part of distributable profits under Chinese law. The fair value of the net assets of Helpson was determined by appraisal and exceeded the cost of the net assets acquired. That excess was allocated as a pro rata reduction of the amounts that otherwise would have been assigned to the non-current assets acquired.

At June 16, 2005, the purchase price was allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed as follows:

Current assets	Y 78,513,015
Property and Equipment	20,964,041
Intangible assets	584,158

Total assets acquired	100,061,214

Current liabilities	64,511,214
Long-term liabilities	8,250,000

Total liabilities assumed	72,761,214

Net assets acquired	Y 27,300,000

Intangible assets consist of registered patents, trademarks, licenses, techniques and formulas related to several Western and Chinese medicines, biochemical products, health products, and cosmetics. These intangible assets have a weighted-average useful life of approximately 5 years.

The following unaudited pro forma information is presented to reflect the operations of the Company and Helpson on a combined basis as if the acquisition of Helpson had been completed as of January 1, 2005, respectively. The unaudited pro forma information is only illustrative of the effects of the acquisition and does not necessarily reflect the results of operations that would have resulted had the acquisition actually occurred on those dates.

The reorganization was recognized as a stock split of the common stock of Onny and the effective issuance by Onny of the 2,500,060 shares of common stock of TS Electronics, Inc. that remained outstanding in exchange for the assumption of Y37,021 of liabilities. The acquisition of TS Electronics, Inc. was recognized as a non-monetary exchange.

Edgar Filing: TS ELECTRONICS INC - Form 10QSB

Permit of land use	40 - 70
Building	20 - 35
Plant, machinery and equipment	10
Motor vehicle	5 - 10
Office equipment	5

Depreciation expense was Y588,514 for the period from January 12, 2005 through September 30, 2005.

NOTE 5 - INTANGIBLE ASSETS

Intangible assets represent the costs on patents, trademarks, licenses, techniques and formulas. Intangible assets have a weighted-average useful life of approximately 5 years. The estimated aggregate amortization expense for the remainder of the period ending December 31, 2005 and the succeeding four years is as follows:

2005	Y 41,372
2006	41,936
2007	41,936
2008	27,826
2009	24,638

NOTE 6 - INCOME TAXES

The Company accounts for its income taxes in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 109, which requires recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and any tax credit carry forwards available. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The provision for income taxes consisted only of current taxes payable of Y519,889. The Company is not subject to any income taxes in the United States. Income tax expense differed from the amounts computed by applying the enterprise income tax rate of 7.5% to pretax income as a result of the following:

Tax at statutory rate (7.5%)	Y 342,035
Nondeductible expenses	177,854
<hr/>
Provision for income taxes	Y 519,889

At September 30, 2005, net deferred tax assets consisted of the following:

Edgar Filing: TS ELECTRONICS INC - Form 10QSB

Allowances for doubtful accounts receivable	Y 936,644
Property and equipment	1,385,901
Intangible assets	35,017

Total deferred tax assets	2,357,562
Less: Valuation allowance	1,931,510

Net deferred tax assets	Y 426,052

The Company has also incurred various other taxes, primarily comprised of business tax, value-added tax, urban construction tax, education surcharges and etc. Any unpaid amounts are reflected on the balance sheets as other taxes payable.

NOTE 7 - NOTES PAYABLE

Notes payable consisted of the following at September 30, 2005:
