[Slide 18] - Business Strategy

[Slide 19] - Business Strategy - Continuously reduce costs; Focus on higher value-added products; Pursue strategic initiatives to enhance competitive advantage and reduce operating costs; Globalization initiatives; Improve balance sheet leverage [Slide 20] - Continuously reduce costs - We have identified $30/ton of cost reductions and increased efficiencies in our U. S. operations over the next three years.

Table showing Selective Initiative and Expected $/ton impact

Improved Productivity & Process Improvements $10

Improved Cost of Quality & Material Yields $6

Reduced Purchased Products & Services $5

Energy Conservation $3

Labor & Staffing Efficiencies $3

Reduced Property Taxes & Royalties $3

Total $30

Over $300 Million in Annual Operating Cost Savings

[Slide 21] - Disciplined Value-Added Capital Investments

We will continue to invest to increase our focus on value-added shipments.

Recent examples include:

(Strategic Initiative;Year;Impact on Mix;Capital)

Pro-tec Expansion; 1999; 400,000 tons of additional exposed automotive galvanizing capacity bringing total to 1 million tons; $89 MM (US$ portion of total capital cost)

USS Automotive Center; 1999; focal point for our automotive business incorporating early vendor involvement initiative; $13 MM

Lorain Tubular; 2000; 100% ownership of 675,000 tons of product capability; $23 MM

[Slide 22] - Pursue Selective Growth Initiatives

Our growth initiatives are focused on gaining competitive advantage and achieving an attractive return on assets. Recent examples include:

Edgar Filing: USX CORP - Form 425

(Location; Strategic Rationale/Competitive Advantage; Consideration)
USSK; establishes high quality, low cost manufacturing base in Europe; $400 MM LTV Tin; consolidates the domestic tin market, increases USS market share to approximately 25%; $65 MM
Transtar; restructured joint venture gives USS 100% of key transportation assets; none
Acero Prime; provides USS a leading position with manufacturers of automotive & appliance products in the growing Mexican market; $7 MM (USS share)

[Slide 23] - Strategic Initiative - Other Business Opportunities - We are working on some new business opportunities that will leverage our in-house strengths in e-business and information technology (We have a robust electronic commerce capability) and better serve the marketplace
