8. Derivative Instruments and Fair Value Measurement

We use foreign currency forward exchange contracts to manage certain foreign currency risks. We enter into these contracts to hedge our exposure to foreign currency exchange rate variability in the expected future cash flows associated with certain third-party and intercompany transactions denominated in foreign currencies expected to occur within the next two years (cash flow hedges). Certain of our locations have assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than their functional currencies resulting from intercompany loans and other transactions with third parties denominated in foreign currencies. We also enter into foreign currency forward exchange contracts that we do not designate as hedging instruments to offset the transaction gains or losses associated with some of these assets and liabilities.

We value our forward exchange contracts using a market approach. We use a valuation model based on inputs including forward and spot prices for currency and interest rate curves. We did not change our valuation techniques during the six months ended March 31, 2014. The notional values of our forward exchange contracts outstanding at March 31, 2014 were $885.5 million, of which $638.5 million were designated as cash flow hedges. Currency pairs (buy/sell) comprising the most significant contract notional values were United States dollar (USD)/euro, USD/Canadian dollar, Swiss franc/euro, Mexican peso/USD, USD/Brazilian real, Singapore dollar/USD, and Swiss franc/Canadian dollar.

We also use foreign currency denominated debt obligations to hedge portions of our net investments in non-U.S. subsidiaries. The currency effects of the debt obligations are reflected in accumulated other comprehensive loss within shareholders' equity where they offset gains and losses recorded on our net investments globally. At March 31, 2014 we had $14.9 million of foreign currency denominated debt designated as net investment hedges.

U.S. GAAP defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (exit price) in an orderly transaction between market participants in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability. U.S. GAAP also classifies the inputs used to measure fair value into the following hierarchy:

- Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
 Level 2: Quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability.
 Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis and their location in our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet were (in millions):

Derivatives Designated as Hedging Instruments	Balance Sheet Location	Fair Value (Level 2)
		March 31, 2014	September 30, 2013
Forward exchange contracts	Other current assets	$7.3	$4.8

8. Derivative Instruments and Fair Value Measurement (continued)

The pre-tax amount of (losses) gains recorded in other comprehensive income (loss) related to hedges that would have been recorded in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations had they not been so designated was (in millions):

	Three Months Ended March 31,		Six Months Ended March 31,
	2014	2013	2014	2013
Forward exchange contracts (cash flow hedges)	$(0.7) $8.1	$0.9	$7.4
Foreign currency denominated debt (net investment hedges)	(0.2) 0.6	(0.5) 0.5
Total	$(0.9) $8.7	$0.4	$7.9

Approximately $3.2 million ($2.6 million net of tax) of net unrealized losses on cash flow hedges as of March 31, 2014 will be reclassified into earnings during the next 12 months. We expect that these net unrealized losses will be offset when the hedged items are recognized in earnings.

The pre-tax amount of gains (losses) reclassified from accumulated other comprehensive loss into the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations related to derivative forward exchange contracts designated as cash flow hedges, which offset the related (losses) gains on the hedged items during the periods presented, was:

	Three Months Ended March 31,		Six Months Ended March 31,
	2014	2013	2014	2013

Cost of sales	1.7	(1.0) 2.4	0.2
Total	$0.9	$ (0.1) $1.4	$0.7

The amount recognized in earnings as a result of ineffective hedges was not significant.

The pre-tax amount of gains (losses) from forward exchange contracts not designated as hedging instruments recognized in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations during the periods presented was:

	Three Months Ended March 31,		Six Months Ended March 31,
	2014	2013	2014	2013

8. Derivative Instruments and Fair Value Measurement (continued)

We also hold financial instruments consisting of cash, short-term investments, short-term debt and long-term debt. The fair values of our cash, short-term investments and short-term debt approximate their carrying amounts as reported in our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet due to the short-term nature of these instruments. We base the fair value of long-term debt upon quoted market prices for the same or similar issues. The following table presents the carrying amounts and estimated fair values of financial instruments not measured at fair value in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet (in millions):

11. Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

Various lawsuits, claims and proceedings have been or may be instituted or asserted against us relating to the conduct of our business, including those pertaining to product liability, environmental, safety and health, intellectual property, employment and contract matters. Although the outcome of litigation cannot be predicted with certainty and some lawsuits, claims or proceedings may be disposed of unfavorably to us, we believe the disposition of matters that are pending or have been asserted will not have a material effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

We (including our subsidiaries) have been named as a defendant in lawsuits alleging personal injury as a result of exposure to asbestos that was used in certain components of our products many years ago. Currently there are a few thousand claimants in lawsuits that name us as defendants, together with hundreds of other companies. In some cases, the claims involve products from divested businesses, and we are indemnified for most of the costs. However, we have agreed to defend and indemnify asbestos claims associated with products manufactured or sold by our former Dodge mechanical and Reliance Electric motors and motor repair services businesses prior to their divestiture by us, which occurred on January 31, 2007. We are also responsible for half of the costs and liabilities associated with asbestos cases against the former Rockwell International Corporation's (RIC's) divested measurement and flow control business. But in all cases, for those claimants who do show that they worked with our products or products of divested businesses for which we are responsible, we nevertheless believe we have meritorious defenses, in substantial part due to the integrity of the products, the encapsulated nature of any asbestos-containing components, and the lack of any impairing medical condition on the part of many claimants. We defend those cases vigorously. Historically, we have been dismissed from the vast majority of these claims with no payment to claimants.

We have maintained insurance coverage that we believe covers indemnity and defense costs, over and above self-insured retentions, for claims arising from our former Allen-Bradley subsidiary. Our insurance carrier entered into a cost share agreement with us to pay the substantial majority of future defense and indemnity costs for Allen-Bradley asbestos claims. We believe that this arrangement will continue to provide coverage for Allen-Bradley asbestos claims throughout the remaining life of the asbestos liability.

The uncertainties of asbestos claim litigation make it difficult to predict accurately the ultimate outcome of asbestos claims. That uncertainty is increased by the possibility of adverse rulings or new legislation affecting asbestos claim litigation or the settlement process. Subject to these uncertainties and based on our experience defending asbestos claims, we do not believe these lawsuits will have a material effect on our financial condition or results of operations. We have, from time to time, divested certain of our businesses. In connection with these divestitures, certain lawsuits, claims and proceedings may be instituted or asserted against us related to the period that we owned the businesses, either because we agreed to retain certain liabilities related to these periods or because such liabilities fall upon us by operation of law. In some instances, the divested business has assumed the liabilities; however, it is possible that we might be responsible to satisfy those liabilities if the divested business is unable to do so.

In connection with the spin-offs of our former automotive component systems business, semiconductor systems business and Rockwell Collins avionics and communications business, the spun-off companies have agreed to indemnify us for substantially all contingent liabilities related to the respective businesses, including environmental and intellectual property matters.

In connection with the sale of our Dodge mechanical and Reliance Electric motors and motor repair services businesses, we agreed to indemnify Baldor Electric Company for costs and damages related to certain legal, legacy environmental and asbestos matters of these businesses arising before January 31, 2007, for which the maximum exposure would be capped at the amount received for the sale.

In many countries we provide a limited intellectual property indemnity as part of our terms and conditions of sale. We also at times provide limited intellectual property indemnities in other contracts with third parties, such as contracts concerning the development and manufacture of our products. As of March 31, 2014, we were not aware of any material indemnification claims that were probable or reasonably possible of an unfavorable outcome. Historically, claims that have been made under the indemnification agreements have not had a material impact on our operating results, financial position or cash flows; however, to the extent that valid indemnification claims arise in the future, future payments by us could be significant and could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations or cash flows in a particular period.

12. Income Taxes

At the end of each interim period, we estimate a base effective tax rate that we expect for the full fiscal year based on our most recent forecast of pre-tax income, permanent book and tax differences and global tax planning strategies. We use this base rate to provide for income taxes on a year-to-date basis, excluding the effect of significant unusual or extraordinary items and items that are reported net of their related tax effects. We record the tax effect of significant unusual or extraordinary items and items that are reported net of their tax effects in the period in which they occur. The effective tax rate was 27.4 percent in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014, compared to 22.5 percent and 24.1 percent in the three and six months ended March 31, 2013, respectively. The effective tax rate was lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35 percent in each period primarily because we benefited from lower non-U.S. tax rates. The amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits was $42.5 million and $40.8 million at March 31, 2014 and September 30, 2013, respectively, of which the entire amount would reduce our effective tax rate if recognized. Accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits were $9.8 million and $12.4 million at March 31, 2014 and September 30, 2013, respectively. We recognize interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in the income tax provision.

If the unrecognized tax benefits were recognized, the net reduction of our income tax provision, including the recognition of interest and penalties and offsetting tax assets, would be $26.4 million as of March 31, 2014.

There was no material change in the amount of unrecognized tax benefits in the six months ended March 31, 2014. We believe it is reasonably possible that the amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits could be reduced by up to $32.3 million in the next 12 months as a result of the resolution of tax matters in various global jurisdictions and the lapses of statutes of limitations.

We conduct business globally and are routinely audited by the various tax jurisdictions in which we operate. We are no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations for years before 2010 and are no longer subject to state, local and foreign income tax examinations for years before 2003.

Income before income taxes	$248.4	$227.1	$521.2	$444.3

Among other considerations, we evaluate performance and allocate resources based upon segment operating earnings before income taxes, interest expense, costs related to corporate offices, non-operating pension costs, certain nonrecurring corporate initiatives, gains and losses from the disposition of businesses and purchase accounting depreciation and amortization. Depending on the product, intersegment sales within a single legal entity are either at cost or cost plus a mark-up, which does not necessarily represent a market price. Sales between legal entities are at an appropriate transfer price. We allocate costs related to shared segment operating activities to the segments using a methodology consistent with the expected benefit.

Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our reviews, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to such condensed consolidated interim financial statements for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

ROCKWELL AUTOMATION, INC.

Overview

We are a leading global provider of industrial automation power, control and information solutions that help manufacturers achieve a competitive advantage for their businesses. Overall demand for our products, services and solutions is driven by:

- investments in manufacturing, including upgrades, modifications and expansions of existing facilities or production lines, and new facilities or production lines;
- investments in basic materials production capacity, which may be related to commodity pricing levels;
- our customers' needs for faster time to market, lower total cost of ownership, improved asset utilization and optimization, and enterprise risk management;
- industry factors that include our customers' new product introductions, demand for our customers' products or services, and the regulatory and competitive environments in which our customers operate;
- levels of global industrial production and capacity utilization;
- regional factors that include local political, social, regulatory and economic circumstances; and
- the spending patterns of our customers due to their annual budgeting processes and their working schedules.

Long-term Strategy

Our vision of being the most valued global provider of innovative industrial automation and information products, services and solutions is supported by our growth and performance strategy, which seeks to:

- achieve growth rates in excess of the automation market by expanding our served market and strengthening our competitive differentiation;
- diversify our sales streams by broadening our portfolio of products, solutions and services, expanding our global presence and serving a wider range of industries and applications;
- grow market share by gaining new customers and by capturing a larger share of existing customers' spending;
- enhance our market access by building our channel capability and partner network;
- make acquisitions that serve as catalysts to organic growth by adding complementary technology, expanding our served market, enhancing our domain expertise or continuing our geographic diversification;
- deploy human and financial resources to strengthen our technology leadership and our intellectual capital business model;
- continuously improve quality and customer experience; and
- drive annual cost productivity.

By implementing the strategy above, we seek to achieve our long-term financial goals that include revenue growth of 6-8 percent, double-digit EPS growth, return on invested capital in excess of 20 percent and free cash flow equal to about 100 percent of Adjusted Income.

Acquisitions

Our acquisition strategy focuses on products, solutions and services that will be catalytic to the organic growth of our core offerings.

In January 2014, we acquired Jacobs Automation, a leader in intelligent track motion control technology. This technology improves performance across a wide range of packaging, material handling, and other applications for the global machine builder market.

In November 2013, we acquired vMonitor LLC and its affiliates, a global technology leader for wireless solutions in the oil and gas industry. This acquisition is expected to strengthen our ability to deliver end-to-end projects for the oil and gas sector and accelerate our development of similar process solutions and remote monitoring services for water / wastewater, mining and other industries globally.

In October 2012, we acquired certain assets of the medium voltage drives business of Harbin Jiuzhou Electric Co., Ltd., a leading manufacturer of medium voltage drives, direct current power supplies, switch gear and wind inverters, headquartered in Harbin, China. The acquisition strengthened our presence in the Asia Pacific motor control market by adding significant capabilities in design, engineering and manufacturing of medium voltage drive products. We believe these acquisitions will help us expand our served market and deliver value to our customers.

U. S. Industrial Economic Trends

In the second quarter of 2014, sales to U.S. customers accounted for 52 percent of our total sales. The various indicators we use to gauge the direction and momentum of our served U.S. markets include:

The Industrial Production Index (IP), published by the Federal Reserve, which measures the real output of manufacturing, mining, and electric and gas utilities. The Industrial Production Index is expressed as a percentage of real output in a base year, currently 2007. Historically there has been a meaningful correlation between the changes in the Industrial Production Index and the level of automation investment made by our U.S. customers in their manufacturing base.

The Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI), published by the Institute for Supply Management (ISM), which is an indicator of the current and near-term state of manufacturing activity in the U.S. According to the ISM, a PMI measure above 50 indicates that the U.S. manufacturing economy is generally expanding while a measure below 50 indicates that it is generally contracting.

Industrial Equipment Spending, which is an economic statistic compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA). This statistic provides insight into spending trends in the broad U.S. industrial economy. This measure over the longer term has proven to demonstrate a reasonable correlation with our domestic growth.

Capacity Utilization (Total Industry), which is an indicator of plant operating activity published by the Federal Reserve. Historically there has been a meaningful correlation between Capacity Utilization and levels of U.S. industrial production.

The table below depicts the trends in these indicators since the quarter ended September 2012. The PMI contracted in the second quarter of fiscal 2014 but remained above 50 indicating expansion in the U.S. manufacturing sector. IP and Capacity Utilization continued to improve after a stable fiscal 2013. Consistent with forecasts for these key macroeconomic indicators, we expect market conditions in the U.S. to continue to improve through the remainder of our fiscal year.

	Industrial Production Index	PMI	Industrial Equipment Spending (in billions)	Capacity Utilization (percent)
Fiscal 2014
Quarter ended:
March 2014	102.3	53.7	211.0	78.7

Non-U.S. Economic Trends

In the second quarter of 2014, sales to non-U.S. customers accounted for 48 percent of our total sales. These customers include both indigenous companies and multinational companies with expanding global presence. In addition to the global factors previously mentioned, international demand, particularly in emerging markets, has historically been driven by the strength of the industrial economy in each region, investments in infrastructure and expanding consumer markets.

We use changes in Gross Domestic Product (GDP) and the Industrial Production Index as indicators of the growth opportunities in each region where we do business. Outside the U.S., we expect stable underlying market conditions. Europe's macroeconomic conditions are improving as currency concerns have abated and inflation has remained in check. Asia Pacific continues to show signs of stabilization; however, limited access to capital and industrial overcapacity remain areas of concern. In Latin America, we expect continued solid economic growth in Mexico and Brazil, but import restrictions, mining softness, and currency devaluation in the rest of the region will continue to negatively affect growth. We continue to expect that emerging markets in aggregate will be the fastest growing automation markets over the long term.

Summary of Results of Operations

Sales in the second quarter of 2014 increased 5 percent compared to the second quarter of 2013. Organic sales increased 7 percent year over year in the quarter, with growth in all regions. Oil and gas continued to be the strongest performing industry.

We continued to execute our key initiatives:

Sales in emerging markets increased 5 percent year over year in the second quarter of 2014. Organic sales growth was 11 percent, led by growth in China, Brazil, and Central and Eastern Europe. Currency translation reduced sales in emerging markets by 6 percentage points.

Logix sales increased 5 percent year over year in the second quarter of 2014. Logix organic sales increased 7 percent, with the highest growth in Asia Pacific.

Sales related to our process initiative increased approximately 3 percent year over year in the second quarter of 2014.

The effective tax rate in the second quarter of 2014 was 27.4 percent compared to 22.5 percent in the second quarter of 2013. The Adjusted Effective Tax Rate in the second quarter of 2014 was 27.9 percent compared to 23.6 percent in the second quarter of 2013. The increases in the effective tax rate and the Adjusted Effective Tax Rate were primarily due to the year-over-year decrease in tax benefits related to the retroactive extension of the U.S. federal research and development tax credit (U.S. research tax credit) in the second quarter of 2013 and the expiration of the U.S. research tax credit on December 31, 2013.

(1) See Note 13 in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for the definition of segment operating earnings.

Total segment operating earnings and total segment operating margin are non-GAAP financial measures. We believe that these measures are useful to investors as measures of operating performance. We use these measures to monitor and evaluate the profitability of our operating segments. Our measures of total segment operating earnings and total segment operating margin may be different from measures used by other companies.

Adjusted EPS is a non-GAAP earnings measure that excludes the non-operating pension costs and their related income tax effects. See Adjusted Income, Adjusted EPS and Adjusted Effective Tax Rate Reconciliation for more information on this non-GAAP measure.

ROCKWELL AUTOMATION, INC.

Purchase accounting depreciation and amortization and non-operating pension costs are not allocated to our operating segments because these costs are excluded from our measurement of each segment's operating performance for internal purposes. If we were to allocate these costs, we would attribute them to each of our segments as follows (in millions):

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended
	March 31, 2014	2013	March 31, 2014	2013
Purchase accounting depreciation and amortization
Architecture & Software	$1.0	$1.0	$1.9	$2.1
Control Products & Solutions	4.5	3.7	8.0	7.5
Non-operating pension costs
Architecture & Software	5.1	6.9	10.3	13.8
Control Products & Solutions	8.1	11.7	16.2	23.4

The decreases in non-operating pension costs in both segments in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 were primarily due to the increase in our U.S. discount rate used to measure net periodic pension cost from 4.15 percent in 2013 to 5.05 percent in 2014.

Adjusted Income, Adjusted EPS and Adjusted Effective Tax Rate Reconciliation

Adjusted Income, Adjusted EPS and Adjusted Effective Tax Rate are non-GAAP earnings measures that exclude non-operating pension costs and their related income tax effects. We define non-operating pension costs as defined benefit plan interest cost, expected return on plan assets, amortization of actuarial gains and losses and the impact of any plan curtailments or settlements. These components of net periodic pension cost primarily relate to changes in pension assets and liabilities that are a result of market performance; we consider these costs to be unrelated to the operating performance of our business. We believe that Adjusted Income, Adjusted EPS and Adjusted Effective Tax Rate provide useful information to our investors about our operating performance and allow management and investors to compare our operating performance period over period. Our measures of Adjusted Income, Adjusted EPS and Adjusted Effective Tax Rate may be different from measures used by other companies. These non-GAAP measures should not be considered a substitute for income from continuing operations, diluted EPS and effective tax rate.

The following are the components of operating and non-operating pension costs for the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 (in millions):

Strong sales growth in the United States in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 was driven by strength in the oil and gas industries and good performance in consumer industries and with OEM customers.

Sales in Canada declined in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 due to unfavorable impact of foreign currency translation. Organic sales in Canada were flat in both periods due to continued weakness in resource-based industries.

Solid EMEA sales growth in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 was primarily due to stronger growth in the emerging markets and favorable impact of foreign currency translation and acquisitions.

Strong Asia Pacific sales growth in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 was fueled by strong growth in China.

Latin America sales declined in the three and six months ended March 31, 2014 due to unfavorable impact of foreign currency translation. Solid organic growth in the region was driven by double-digit sales growth in Brazil and Mexico that more than offset sales declines in the rest of the region.

Financial Condition

The following is a summary of our cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities, as reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows (in millions):

	Six Months Ended March 31,
	2014	2013
Cash provided by (used for):
Operating activities	$406.3	$369.9
Investing activities	(256.0)	(155.1)
Financing activities	(112.7)	(138.3)
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash	1.3	(6.3)
Cash provided by continuing operations	$38.9	$70.2
The following table summarizes free cash flow (in millions):
Cash provided by continuing operating activities	$406.3	$369.9
Capital expenditures of continuing operations	(58.3)	(55.0)
Excess income tax benefit from share-based compensation	18.6	21.0
Free cash flow	$366.6	$335.9

Our definition of free cash flow, which is a non-GAAP financial measure, takes into consideration capital investments required to maintain the operations of our businesses and execute our strategy. Cash provided by continuing operating activities adds back non-cash depreciation expense to earnings and thus does not reflect a charge for necessary capital expenditures. Our definition of free cash flow excludes the operating cash flows and capital expenditures related to our discontinued operations. Operating, investing and financing cash flows of our discontinued operations are presented separately in our statement of cash flows. U.S. GAAP requires the excess income tax benefit from share-based compensation to be reported as a financing cash flow rather than as an operating cash flow. We have added this benefit back to our calculation of free cash flow in order to generally classify cash flows arising from income taxes as operating cash flows. In our opinion, free cash flow provides useful information to investors regarding our ability to generate cash from business operations that is available for acquisitions and other investments, service of debt principal, dividends and share repurchases. We use free cash flow as one measure to monitor and evaluate performance. Our definition of free cash flow may differ from definitions used by other companies.

Cash provided by operating activities was $406.3 million for the six months ended March 31, 2014 compared to $369.9 million for the six months ended March 31, 2013. Free cash flow was a source of $366.6 million for the six months ended March 31, 2014 compared to a source of $335.9 million for the six months ended March 31, 2013. The increase in the cash flow provided by operating activities and the increase in free cash flow in the six months ended March 31, 2014 are primarily due to higher earnings, partially offset by higher tax payments.

We repurchased approximately 1.9 million shares of our common stock under our share repurchase program in the first six months of 2014. The total cost of these shares was $221.4 million, of which $10.0 million was recorded in accounts payable at March 31, 2014 related to 81,000 shares that did not settle until April 2014. We also paid $6.4 million in the first quarter of 2014 for unsettled share repurchases outstanding at September 30, 2013. We repurchased approximately 2.6 million shares of our common stock in the first six months of 2013. The total cost of these shares was $213.7 million, of which $10.2 million was recorded in accounts payable at March 31, 2013 related to 120,000 shares that did not settle until April 2013. We also paid $7.6 million in the first quarter of 2013 for unsettled share repurchases outstanding at September 30, 2012. Our decision to repurchase additional shares in the remainder of 2014 will depend on business conditions, free cash flow generation, other cash requirements and stock price. At March 31, 2014, we had approximately $313.7 million remaining for share repurchases under our existing board authorization. See Part II, Item 2, Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds, for additional information regarding share repurchases.

Given our extensive international operations, significant amounts of our cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments (funds) are held by non-U.S. subsidiaries where our undistributed earnings are permanently reinvested. Generally, these funds would be subject to U.S. tax if repatriated. The percentage of such non-U.S. funds can vary from quarter to quarter with an average of approximately 90 percent over the past eight quarters. As of March 31, 2014, approximately 90 percent of our funds were held in such non-U.S. subsidiaries. We have not encountered and do not expect to encounter any difficulty meeting the liquidity requirements of our domestic and international operations.

In addition to cash generated by operating activities, we have access to existing financing sources, including the public debt markets and unsecured credit facilities with various banks. Commercial paper is our principal source of short-term financing. At March 31, 2014, commercial paper borrowings outstanding were $342.0 million, with a weighted average interest rate of 0.17 percent. At September 30, 2013, commercial paper borrowings outstanding were $179.0 million, with a weighted average interest rate of 0.17 percent. Our debt-to-total-capital ratio was 31.2 percent at March 31, 2014 and 29.5 percent at September 30, 2013.

At March 31, 2014 and September 30, 2013, our total current borrowing capacity under our unsecured revolving credit facility expiring in May 2018 was $750.0 million. We can increase the aggregate amount of this credit facility by up to $250.0 million, subject to the consent of the banks in the credit facility. We have not borrowed against this credit facility during the six months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013. Borrowings under this credit facility bear interest based on short-term money market rates in effect during the period borrowings are outstanding. The terms of this credit facility contain covenants under which we would be in default if our debt-to-total-capital ratio was to exceed 60 percent. Separate short-term unsecured credit facilities of approximately $118.1 million were available to non-U.S. subsidiaries at March 31, 2014. Borrowings under our non-U.S. credit facilities during the six months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 were not significant. We were in compliance with all covenants under our credit facilities during the six months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013.

Among other uses, we can draw on our credit facility as a standby liquidity facility to repay our outstanding commercial paper as it matures. This access to funds to repay maturing commercial paper is an important factor in maintaining the short-term credit ratings set forth in the table below. Under our current policy with respect to these ratings, we expect to limit our other borrowings under our credit facility, if any, to amounts that would leave enough credit available under the facility so that we could borrow, if needed, to repay all of our then outstanding commercial paper as it matures.

The following is a summary of our credit ratings as of March 31, 2014:

Credit Rating Agency	Short-Term Rating	Long-Term Rating	Outlook
Standard & Poor's	A-1	A	Stable
Moody's	P-2	A3	Positive
Fitch Ratings	F1	A	Stable

Our ability to access the commercial paper market, and the related costs of these borrowings, is affected by the strength of our credit ratings and market conditions. We have not experienced any difficulty in accessing the commercial paper market to date. If our access to the commercial paper market is adversely affected due to a change in market conditions or otherwise, we would expect to rely on a combination of available cash and our unsecured committed credit facility to provide short-term funding. In such event, the cost of borrowings under our unsecured committed credit facility could be higher than the cost of commercial paper borrowings.

We regularly monitor the third-party depository institutions that hold our cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments. Our emphasis is primarily on safety and liquidity of principal and secondarily on maximizing yield on those funds. We diversify our cash and cash equivalents among counterparties to minimize exposure to any one of these entities.

We enter into foreign currency forward exchange contracts to hedge our exposure to foreign currency exchange rate variability in the expected future cash flows associated with certain third-party and intercompany transactions denominated in foreign currencies forecasted to occur within the next two years and to offset transaction gains or losses associated with some of our assets and liabilities that are denominated in currencies other than their functional currencies resulting from intercompany loans and other transactions with third parties denominated in foreign currencies. Our foreign currency forward exchange contracts are usually denominated in currencies of major industrial countries. We diversify our foreign currency forward exchange contracts among counterparties to minimize exposure to any one of these entities.

Information with respect to our contractual cash obligations is contained in Item 7, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2013. We believe that at March 31, 2014, there has been no material change to this information.

Supplemental Sales Information

We translate sales of subsidiaries operating outside of the United States using exchange rates effective during the respective period. Therefore, changes in currency exchange rates affect our reported sales. Sales by businesses we acquired also affect our reported sales. We believe that organic sales, defined as sales excluding the effects of changes in currency exchange rates and acquisitions, which is a non-GAAP financial measure, provides useful information to investors because it reflects regional and operating segment performance from the activities of our businesses without the effect of changes in currency exchange rates and acquisitions. We use organic sales as one measure to monitor and evaluate our regional and operating segment performance. We determine the effect of changes in currency exchange rates by translating the respective period's sales using the same currency exchange rates that were in effect during the prior year. When we acquire businesses, we exclude sales in the current period for which there are no comparable sales in the prior period. Organic sales growth is calculated by comparing organic sales to reported sales in the prior year. We attribute sales to the geographic regions based on the country of destination.
