Greg Case / Russ Fradin Video Script to Aon Colleagues

Colleagues, this is an historic moment in the history of our firm. I am very excited to talk to you today about the agreement to merge our consulting business with Hewitt Associates and create what I believe will be the world's foremost authority in human capital solutions - Aon Hewitt.

I want to applaud the work you have done over the past few years to take our firm to the heights it has achieved in terms of building our brand and raising customer satisfaction levels to well above 90 percent. It has been a tremendous journey, but the path before us still presents equally tremendous opportunity.

As you may know, we have been laser-focused on becoming the pre-eminent professional services firm in the two most important areas affecting our clients and the global economy - risk and people.

Over the past five years we have pursued both organic revenue growth and acquisitions to strengthen our position. At the same time, we have watched and admired the growth and leadership that Hewitt has demonstrated in the human capital space. Their commitment to clients, their focus on getting the best talent, and the strength of their brand; their values have taken their firm to new heights in the industry.

We share many of those same values: a desire to serve our clients with distinction, a desire to be the destination for the best talent, and the desire to achieve operational excellence on behalf of our stakeholders. That is why Hewitt has long been seen by Aon as the preferred partner in this space.

And I am very pleased to tell you that Russ Fradin, chairman and CEO of Hewitt Associates, has agreed to take on the role of chairman and CEO of Aon Hewitt. Russ

Thank you, Greg. I am very honored to have the opportunity to introduce myself today and to become part of Aon's global team.

This merger makes sense to Hewitt because we share many of your same values and because the complementary nature of our current businesses made this union an ideal fit.

United as Aon Hewitt, I believe we can offer our clients an even broader range of products in many more places where our clients do their business. We will have a larger critical mass in some consulting practices that we both intended to grow and we will have greater scale that will allow Aon Hewitt to compete on large global projects with the world's premier companies.

So I am very excited about the opportunities this merger holds for both of our firms and for our respective teams, and I am very much looking forward to working with Greg and our combined teams to make this merger a success for our clients, our shareholders, and for our combined team of colleagues and associates. Greg Thanks Russ.

Colleagues, the economic and strategic rationale for this merger is exceptionally strong:

- Our overall strategic position will be significantly enhanced
- Aon Hewitt will become the unsurpassed leader in human capital solutions on a global basis
- The opportunity for cross-selling across all of our business lines is both proven and substantial, and
- It will give us the opportunity to strengthen the capability of individual client teams that will serve both our clients and team members well

I see this merger as a tremendous opportunity for our Aon colleagues. The new Aon Hewitt will help us to shape the next generation of our firm and help us create an organization second to none in HR consulting and outsourcing.

The new organization will allow us to expand career and professional development opportunities in consulting services, benefits administration and HR business process outsourcing.

Now a lot of the questions you may have today or in the next few days we will not be able to answer because of the strict securities regulations we must adhere to prior to the closing of the transaction.

Edgar Filing: HEWITT ASSOCIATES INC - Form 425

But let me assure you. The retention and engagement of our collective talent is very critical to the ongoing success of the new entity. We have already begun to define the process we will use to map out our capabilities and determine the right organizational structure for the new organization.

And we are equally committed to communicating with you on a regular and ongoing basis so that you know of the steps we are taking as we take them. We will be as transparent and open with you as we can be.

I hope you will take the time to learn about our friends at Hewitt. I think you will see they represent an exciting company with shared values and a clear vision for the future.

Edgar Filing: HEWITT ASSOCIATES INC - Form 425

I believe this merger will put Aon further along in our journey to become the pre-eminent professional services firm focusing on risk and people, and I look forward to continuing to work with all of you in achieving that goal.

Thank you.
