Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On January 26, 2007, Competitive Technologies, Inc. (the “Company”), John Nano (“Nano”), and Commerce Bank, N.A. (the “Escrow Agent”), entered into an escrow agreement (the “Agreement”). Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, the Company delivered $2,500,000 to the Escrow Agent be held in escrow until such time as the parties and their respective counsel agree, or upon receipt of a final, non-appealable order from the court in the litigation between Nano and the Company. Interest on the escrowed funds shall accrue to the Company. A copy of the Agreement is attached as Exhibit 10.1.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On January 24, 2007, the Company announced that it had reached an agreement with John B. Nano relating to a prejudgment remedy hearing scheduled to proceed on the same day before Federal Court Magistrate Judge Thomas P. Smith. Pursuant to the agreement, which the court ordered, the hearing was cancelled and the Company agreed to post a bond from a reputable insurance company in the amount of $2.5 million by the close of business on January 26, 2007, to serve as security. In addition, the court agreed to assist the parties in expedited settlement discussions. A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1.

Due to time constraints, the Company was unable to secure a bond by the specified date, and the parties agreed that the Company would place the funds into an escrow account in a bank.
