Consolidated Financial Results April 1, 2004 June 30, 2004

July 29, 2004

In preparing its consolidated financial information, ORIX Corporation and its subsidiaries have complied with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, except as modified to account for stock splits in accordance with the usual practice in Japan.

U.S. Dollar amounts have been calculated at Yen 108.43 to $1.00, the approximate exchange rate prevailing at June 30, 2004.

These documents may contain forward-looking statements about expected future events and financial results that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are based on our current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and risks that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those described under Risk Factors in the Company's annual report on Form 20-F filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company expects that it will be a passive foreign investment company under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. A U.S. holder of the shares of the Company is therefore subject to special rules of taxation in respect of certain dividend, gain or other income on such shares. Investors should consult their tax advisors with respect to such rules, which are summarized in the Company's annual report.

Revenues: 193,313 million yen (Up 14% year on year)

Although the automobile leasing operations performed steadily, revenues from direct financing leases fell compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year as a result of a lower balance of assets as we continued to carefully select new assets and focus on the profitability of each transaction for assets other than those associated with our automobile leasing operations. Life insurance premiums and related investment income was flat year on year as we continued to shift to more profitable insurance products. Residential condominium sales were down, as fewer condominiums were sold to buyers in the first quarter than planned for this fiscal year. In addition, gains on sales of real estate under operating leases were also down compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to fewer transactions. On the other hand, revenues from operating leases increased due to the recovery of the precision measuring and other equipment rental business and expansion of the automobile rental operations. Interest on loans and investment securities was up due mainly to the strong contribution from corporate loans, including non-recourse loans. In addition, brokerage commissions and net gains on investment securities increased due to the growth in brokerage commissions owing to an improvement in the stock market in Japan, and increase in net gains on sales of investment securities associated with our venture capital operations. We also saw growth in other operating revenues due to the strong performance from our building maintenance operations and from the increase in revenues associated with companies we invested in as part of our corporate rehabilitation business in the second half of the previous fiscal year. As a result, revenues increased 14% to 193,313 million yen compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Expenses: 161,831 million yen (Up 9% year on year)

Depreciation-operating leases and other operating expenses increased year on year in line with the increase in revenues. Selling, general and administrative expenses were up due mainly to the expenses associated with the increase in the number of consolidated companies in the previous fiscal year. On the other hand, interest expense declined due mainly to lower levels of operating assets. In addition, life insurance costs decreased mainly as a result of the change in the product mix due to the shift towards more profitable insurance products. Costs of residential condominium sales decreased in line with the lower residential condominium sales. In addition, the provision for doubtful receivables and probable loan losses and write-downs of securities both declined compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year. Furthermore, there were no write-downs of long-lived assets in the first quarter of this fiscal year. As a result, overall expenses were up 9% year on year to 161,831 million yen.

Net Income: 23,527 million yen (Up 67% year on year)

Operating income was 31,482 million yen, an increase of 49% over the same period of the previous fiscal year. The steady performance from equity in net income of affiliates and gain on sales of affiliates resulted in an increase in income before income taxes of 51% to 37,075 million yen. Discontinued operations, net of applicable tax effect was up year on year to 2,739 million yen due to an increase in the number of transactions. Furthermore, the total of income from discontinued operations, net of 4,569 million yen (excluding tax effect) and gains on sales of real estate under operating leases of 1,445 million yen was 6,014 million yen for the first quarter of this fiscal year, a decrease of 873 million yen compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. As a result, net income rose 67% compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year to 23,527 million yen.

Operating Assets: 4,852,290 million yen (Flat on March 31, 2004)

Operating assets were flat on March 31, 2004 at 4,852,290 million yen.

Segment Information (Profits refer to income before income taxes)

Operations in Japan

Corporate Financial Services (Segment name changed from Corporate Finance to Corporate Financial Services): The automobile leasing operations performed steadily and installment loans to corporate customers increased compared to the first quarter of the previous fiscal year. In addition, a lower provision for doubtful receivables and probable loan losses contributed to an increase in segment profits to 13,040 million yen compared to 9,345 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Rental Operations (Segment name changed from Equipment Operating Leases to Rental Operations): Segment profits increased to 2,302 million yen compared to 1,520 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year due to the recovery of the precision measuring and other equipment rental business.

Table of Contents

Real Estate-Related Finance: Segment profits improved year on year to 4,906 million yen compared to 3,018 million yen as a result of the expansion of the housing loan operations and the steady performance of the corporate lending operations, including non-recourse loans.

Real Estate: Although the steady performance from the building maintenance operations and sale of office buildings contributed to profits, the decrease in residential condominium sales due to fewer condominiums being sold to buyers in the first quarter than planned for this fiscal year resulted in segment profits of 6,515 million yen down from 8,160 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Life Insurance: This segment moved from a segment loss of 392 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year to a segment profit of 1,879 million yen as a result of the shift towards more profitable insurance products and due to the recognition of a gain on sales of affiliates.

Other: Although the contribution from the consumer card loan operations decreased as a result of a stricter credit screening process, the increased contribution from the securities brokerages business that benefited from the recovery of the stock market, venture capital business and equity in net income of affiliates resulted in a large increase in segment profits to 6,374 million yen compared to 1,177 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Overseas Operations

The Americas: Although there was a lower provision for doubtful receivables and probable loan losses, the loss from an equity method affiliate resulted in a lower segment profit of 1,210 million yen down from 2,131 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Asia and Oceania: Segment profits increased year on year to 5,679 million yen compared to 4,204 million yen due to the steady performance from automobile leasing and corporate lending by a number of companies in the region, as well as from equity in net income of affiliates.

Europe: Segment profits improved to 255 million yen from a segment loss of 258 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year as this segment recorded losses on certain equity method investments in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

2. Summary of Cash Flows (Three Months Ended June 30, 2004)

Cash and cash equivalents decreased by 10,812 million yen, to 141,423 million yen compared to March 31, 2004.

Table of Contents

Cash flows from operating activities, which included net income, used 18,840 million yen due mainly to a decrease in accrued expenses and an increase in restricted cash.

As operating assets were flat, cash flows from investing activities used 19,185 million yen and cash flows from financing activities provided 27,140 million yen.

Please note that a consolidated statement of cash flows was not provided for the period ended June 30, 2003 and no comparisons were made regarding the cash flows for operating, investing and financing for that period.

3. Outlook and Forecasts for the Year Ending March 31, 2005

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 2005, we forecast revenues of 760,000 million yen (up 5% compared with the fiscal year ended March 31, 2004), income before income taxes of 109,000 million yen (up 7%), and net income of 60,000 million yen (up 11%). At this time, we have not made any changes to our original forecasts, which we announced on April 26, 2004 in our earnings announcement for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2004.
