1. Basis of Presentation:

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Advance Auto Parts, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiaries, or the Company. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

The condensed consolidated balance sheets as of July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006, the condensed consolidated statements of operations for the twelve and twenty-eight week periods ended July 14, 2007 and July 15, 2006, and the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for the twenty-eight week periods ended July 14, 2007 and July 15, 2006, have been prepared by the Company. In the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting of only normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position of the Company, the results of its operations and cash flows have been made.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been condensed or omitted. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 30, 2006.

The results of operations for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the operating results to be expected for the full fiscal year.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cost of Sales and Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

The following table illustrates the primary costs classified in each major expense category:

Vendor Incentives

The Company receives incentives in the form of reductions to amounts owed and/or payments from vendors related to cooperative advertising allowances, volume rebates and other promotional considerations. The Company accounts for vendor incentives in accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force, or EITF, No. 02-16, "Accounting by a Customer (Including a Reseller) for Certain Consideration Received from a Vendor." Many of the incentives are under long-term agreements (terms in excess of one year), while others are negotiated on an annual basis. Cooperative advertising allowances and volume rebates are earned based on inventory purchases and initially recorded as a reduction to inventory. The deferred amounts are included as a reduction to cost of sales as the inventory is sold.

The Company recognizes other promotional incentives earned under long-term agreements as a reduction to cost of sales. These incentives are recognized based on the cumulative net purchases as a percentage of total estimated net purchases over the life of the agreement. The Company's margins could be impacted positively or negatively if actual purchases or results from any one year differ from its estimates; however, the impact over the life of the agreement would be the same. Short-term incentives (terms less than one year) are recognized as a reduction to cost of sales over the course of the agreements.

Amounts received or receivable from vendors that are not yet earned are reflected as deferred revenue in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets. Management's estimate of the portion of deferred revenue that will be realized within one year of the balance sheet date has been included in other current liabilities in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets. Earned amounts that are receivable from vendors are included in receivables, net on the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets, except for that portion expected to be received after one year, which is included in other assets, net on the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets.

Preopening Expenses

Preopening expenses, which consist primarily of payroll and occupancy costs, are expensed as incurred.

Warranty Costs

The Company's vendors are primarily responsible for warranty claims. Warranty costs relating to merchandise (primarily batteries) sold under warranty, which are not covered by vendors' warranties, are estimated based on the Company's historical experience and are recorded in the period the product is sold. The following table presents changes in the Company's warranty reserves.

	July 14, 2007		December 30, 2006

Reserves utilized	(9,436)		(15,635)
Warranty reserve, end of period	$ 14,695	$	13,069

Sales Returns and Allowances

The Company's accounting policy for sales returns and allowances consists of establishing reserves for estimated returns at the time of sale. The Company anticipates returns based on current sales levels and the Company's historical return experience on a specific product basis.

Earnings Per Share of Common Stock

Basic earnings per share of common stock has been computed based on the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding, less stock held in treasury and shares of non-vested restricted stock, during the period. Diluted earnings per share of common stock reflects the increase in the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding, outstanding deferred stock units and the impact of outstanding stock options, stock appreciation rights and shares of non-vested restricted stock, calculated on the treasury stock method.

Hedge Activities

The Company utilizes interest rate swaps to limit its cash flow risk on its variable rate debt. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, or SFAS, No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities," the fair value of the Company's outstanding hedges is recorded as an asset or liability in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets at July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006, respectively. The Company uses the "matched terms" accounting method as provided by Derivative Implementation Group Issue No. G9, "Assuming No Ineffectiveness When Critical Terms of the Hedging Instrument and the Hedge Transaction Match in a Cash Flow Hedge” for the interest rate swaps. Accordingly, the Company has matched the critical terms of each hedge instrument to the hedged debt. The Company uses the adjusted LIBOR interest rate and has the intent and ability to continue to use the adjusted LIBOR interest rate on its hedged borrowings. Therefore, the Company has recorded all adjustments to the fair value of the hedge instruments in accumulated other comprehensive income through the maturity date of the applicable hedge arrangement.

The fair value of the interest rate swaps at July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006 was an asset of $3,791 and $251, respectively. Any amounts received or paid under these hedges will be recorded in the statement of operations as earned or incurred.

Based on the estimated current and future fair values of the hedge arrangements at July 14, 2007, the Company estimates amounts currently included in accumulated other comprehensive income that will be reclassified to earnings in the next 12 months will consist of a gain of $823 associated with the interest rate swaps.

Financed Vendor Accounts Payable

The Company is party to a short-term financing program with a bank allowing it to extend its payment terms on certain merchandise purchases. The substance of the program is for the Company to borrow money from the bank to finance purchases from vendors. The Company records any discount given by the vendor to the value of its inventory and accretes this discount to the resulting short-term payable to the bank through interest expense over the extended term. At July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006, $154,695 and $127,543, respectively, was payable to the bank by the Company under this program and is included in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as Financed Vendor Accounts Payable.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2007, the Financial Accounting Standards Board, or FASB, issued SFAS No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities." SFAS No. 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. SFAS No. 159 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of SFAS No. 159.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 158, "Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans, an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R)." SFAS No. 158 requires recognition of the overfunded or underfunded status of defined benefit postretirement plans as an asset or liability in the statement of financial position and to recognize changes in that funded status in comprehensive income in the year in which the changes occur. SFAS No. 158 also requires measurement of the funded status of a plan as of the date of the statement of financial position. The Company adopted the recognition provisions of SFAS No. 158 on December 30, 2006. SFAS No. 158 is effective for the measurement date provisions for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2008. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting the measurement date provisions of SFAS No. 158.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements." SFAS No. 157 clarifies the definition of fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands the disclosures on fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of SFAS No. 157.

2. Income Taxes:

On December 31, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of FASB Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes," or FIN 48. FIN 48 clarifies the accounting and reporting for income taxes recognized in accordance with SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." The interpretation prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in income tax returns.

As a result of the adoption of FIN 48 on December 31, 2006, the Company recorded an increase of $2,275 to the liability for unrecognized tax benefits and a corresponding decrease in its balance of retained earnings. As of December 31, 2006, the gross amount of unrecognized tax benefits was $16,453. The entire amount, if recognized, would affect the effective tax rate. The amount of unrecognized tax benefits did not materially change from December 31, 2006 to July 14, 2007.

Prior to December 31, 2006, the Company classified interest associated with tax contingencies in interest expense. The Company has not previously provided for any penalties associated with tax contingencies unless considered probable. With the adoption of FIN 48, the Company will provide for interest and penalties as a part of income tax expense. As of December 31, 2006, the gross amount of interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits was $4,172.

During the next 12 months, it is possible that the Company could conclude on $3,000 to $4,000 of the contingencies associated with unrecognized tax uncertainties (including tax benefits, interest and penalties). The majority of these resolutions would be achieved through the completion of current income tax examinations.

The Company and its subsidiaries file a consolidated U.S. federal income tax return and state returns, some of which are on a consolidated basis, in the 40 states which have retail operations, plus Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Numerous localities require income tax returns. The examination of the Company's U.S. federal tax returns for the 3-year period ending 2003 was completed in March 2006. With respect to state and local jurisdictions, the Company and its subsidiaries are generally not subject to exam for any years prior to 2001.

3. Share-Based Compensation:

The Company accounts for its share-based compensation plans in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123R, "Share-Based Payment." Historically, the Company has granted fixed stock options and deferred stock units, or DSUs, to its employees under these plans. During the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, the Company granted stock appreciation rights, or SARs, and shares of restricted stock as allowed under the Company's long-term incentive plan. The Company also granted stock options and DSUs to its Board of Directors and interim Chief Executive Officer and President. Total share-based compensation expense included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying condensed consolidated statements of operations for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $5,014 and $10,412, respectively. Total share-based compensation expense included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying condensed consolidated statements of operations for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006 was $4,847 and $9,892, respectively.

SARs

During the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, the Company granted 1,444 SARs to employees at a weighted average conversion price of $38.07. The Company calculated the fair value of the granted SARs using the Black-Scholes pricing model and will amortize the fair value compensation over the requisite service period using the straight-line method. The SARs vest over a three-year period in equal installments beginning on the first anniversary of the grant date and contain no post-vesting restrictions other than normal trading black-out periods prescribed by the Company's corporate governance policies. Additionally, the SARs expire on the seventh anniversary of the grant date.

The weighted average grant-date fair value of each SAR was $11.37. At July 14, 2007, the remaining compensation expense to be recognized for this grant, net of estimated forfeitures, is $11,050. The Company used the following Black-Scholes option-pricing assumptions to determine the fair value of each SAR and stock option

During the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, the Company granted 154 shares of restricted stock to employees. These shares vest over a three-year period. During this period, holders of the restricted stock are entitled to dividend and voting rights. Shares of the restricted stock are restricted until they vest and cannot be sold by the recipient until the restriction has lapsed at the end of the three-year period.

The weighted average grant-date fair value of each share of restricted stock was $38.30, which was equal to the market price of the Company's stock on the date of grant. At July 14, 2007, the remaining compensation expense to be recognized for this grant, net of estimated forfeitures, is $4,064. As the compensation is amortized over the vesting period, additional paid-in capital is recognized accordingly. Shares of restricted stock are not included as shares outstanding in the calculation of basic earnings per share, but are included in the number of shares used to calculate diluted earnings per share, if dilutive.

Stock Options and DSUs

During the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, the Company granted 75 stock options and 8 DSU's to its Board of Directors and interim Chief Executive Officer and President. The Company determined the fair value of each stock option using the same Black-Scholes option-pricing assumptions as were used to value the SARs. The grant-date fair value of each stock option was $12.22. The DSUs were awarded at a price equal to the market price of the Company's underlying stock price on the date of the grant.

6. Inventories, net:

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, cost being determined using the last-in, first-out ("LIFO") method for approximately 93% of inventories at both July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006. Under the LIFO method, the Company's cost of sales reflects the costs of the most currently purchased inventories while the inventory carrying balance represents the costs relating to prices paid in prior years. The Company's costs to acquire inventory have been generally decreasing in recent years as a result of the Company's significant growth. Accordingly, the cost to replace inventory is less than the LIFO balances carried for similar product. As a result of the LIFO method and the ability to obtain lower product costs, the Company recorded reductions to cost of sales of $13,613 and $8,528 for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 and July 15, 2006, respectively.

An actual valuation of inventory under the LIFO method can be made only at the end of each fiscal year based on the inventory levels and costs at that time. Accordingly, interim LIFO calculations must be based on management's estimates of expected fiscal year-end inventory levels and costs.

The remaining inventories are comprised of product cores, which consist of the non-consumable portion of certain parts and batteries and are valued under the first-in, first-out ("FIFO") method. Core values are included as part of the Company's merchandise costs and are either passed on to the customer or returned to the vendor. Additionally, these products are not subject to the frequent cost changes like the Company's other merchandise inventory, thus there is no material difference from applying either the LIFO or FIFO valuation methods.

The Company capitalizes certain purchasing and warehousing costs into inventory. Purchasing and warehousing costs included in inventory, at FIFO, at July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006, were $99,048 and $95,576, respectively. Inventories consist of the following:

July 14, 2007	December 30, 2006
--------------------------	------------------------------

Inventories at FIFO	$	1,464,128	$	1,380,573
Adjustments to state inventories at LIFO		96,379		82,767
Inventories at LIFO	$	1,560,507	$	1,463,340

Replacement cost approximated FIFO cost at July 14, 2007, and December 30, 2006.

Inventory quantities are tracked through a perpetual inventory system. The Company uses a cycle counting program in all distribution centers, PDQs, LAWs and retail stores to ensure the accuracy of the perpetual inventory quantities of both merchandise and core inventory.

The Company establishes reserves for estimated shrink based on historical accuracy and effectiveness of the cycle counting program. The Company also establishes reserves for potentially excess and obsolete inventories based on current inventory levels and the historical analysis of product sales and current market conditions. The nature of the Company's inventory is such that the risk of obsolescence is minimal and excess inventory has historically been returned to the Company's vendors for credit. The Company provides reserves when less than full credit is expected from a vendor or when liquidating product will result in retail prices below recorded costs. The Company's reserves against inventory for these matters were $32,180 and $31,376 at July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006, respectively.

7. Long-term Debt:

Long-term debt consists of the following:

	July 14, 2007	December 30, 2006
Senior Debt:
Revolving facility at variable interest rates (6.13% and 6.13% at July 14, 2007 and December 30, 2006, respectively) due October 2011	$ 350,000	$ 476,800

Less: Current portion of long-term debt	(68)	(67)
Long-term debt, excluding current portion	$ 350,332	$ 477,173

As of July 14, 2007, the Company had outstanding $350,000 under its revolving credit facility and had $66,756 in letters of credit outstanding, which reduced availability under the revolving credit facility to $333,244. In addition to the letters of credit, the Company maintains approximately $2,527 in surety bonds issued by its insurance provider primarily to utility providers and the departments of revenue for certain states. These letters of credit and surety bonds generally have a term of one year or less.

The Company entered into its current $750,000 unsecured five-year revolving credit facility in October 2006 with Advance Stores Company, Incorporated, a subsidiary of the Company, serving as the borrower. The revolver replaced the Company's term loans and revolver under the previous credit facility.

Additionally, the revolving credit facility provides for the issuance of letters of credit with a sub limit of $300,000 and swingline loans in an amount not to exceed $50,000. The Company may also request that the total revolving commitment be increased by an amount not exceeding $250,000 during the term of the credit agreement. Voluntary prepayments and voluntary reductions of the revolving balance are permitted in whole or in part, at the Company's option, in minimum principal amounts as specified in the revolving credit facility.

The interest rates on borrowings under the revolving credit facility will be based, at the Company's option, on an adjusted LIBOR rate, plus a margin, or an alternate base rate, plus a margin. The current margin is 0.75% and 0.0% per annum for the adjusted LIBOR and alternate base rate borrowings, respectively. A commitment fee will be charged on the unused portion of the revolver, payable in arrears. The current commitment fee rate is 0.150% per annum. Under the terms of the revolving credit facility, the interest rate spread and commitment fee will be based on the Company's credit rating. The revolving facility terminates on October 5, 2011.

The revolving credit facility is fully and unconditionally guaranteed by Advance Auto Parts, Inc. The facility contains covenants restricting the ability of the Company and its subsidiaries to, among other things, (1) create, incur or assume additional debt (including hedging arrangements), (2) incur liens or engage in sale-leaseback transactions, (3) make loans and investments, (4) guarantee obligations, (5) engage in certain mergers, acquisitions and asset sales, (6) engage in transactions with affiliates, (7) change the nature of the Company's business and the business conducted by its subsidiaries and (8) change the holding company status of the Company. The Company is required to comply with financial covenants with respect to a maximum leverage ratio and a minimum consolidated coverage ratio. The revolving credit facility also provides for customary events of default, including non-payment defaults, covenant defaults and cross-defaults to the Company's other material indebtedness.

The Company was in compliance with the above covenants under the revolving credit facility at July 14, 2007.

8. Comprehensive Income:

Comprehensive income includes changes in fair value of the Company's interest rate swaps. Beginning in fiscal 2007, comprehensive income also includes the amortization of prior service credits related to its postretirement plan as a result of adopting of SFAS No. 158, "Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans, an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R)" at December 30, 2006.

Comprehensive income for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 and July 15, 2006 is as follows:

Subsequent to July 14, 2007, the Company's Board of Directors authorized a new $500,000 stock repurchase program. The new program cancelled and replaced its previous $300,000 stock repurchase program, which was nearly completed. As of August 22, 2007, the Company had repurchased an additional 4,888 shares at an aggregate cost of $160,616, of which 3,653 shares were repurchased under the new stock repurchase program at an aggregate cost of $118,288.

10. Postretirement Plan:

The Company provides certain health and life insurance benefits for eligible retired team members through a postretirement plan, or the Plan. These benefits are subject to deductibles, co-payment provisions and other limitations. The Plan has no assets and is funded on a cash basis as benefits are paid. The Company's postretirement liability is calculated annually by a third-party actuary. The discount rate utilized at December 30, 2006 was 5.5%, and remained unchanged through the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007. The Company expects fiscal 2007 plan contributions to completely offset benefits paid, consistent with fiscal 2006.

The components of net periodic postretirement benefit cost for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, and July 15, 2006 respectively, are as follows:

	Twelve Weeks Ended		Twenty-Eight Weeks Ended

11. Segment and Related Information:

The Company has the following two reportable segments: Advance Auto Parts, or AAP, and Autopart International, or AI. The AAP segment is comprised of store operations within the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands which operate under the trade names "Advance Auto Parts," "Advance Discount Auto Parts" and "Western Auto." These stores offer a broad selection of brand name and proprietary automotive replacement parts, accessories and maintenance items for domestic and imported cars and light trucks, with no significant concentration in any specific product area.

The AI segment consists solely of the operations of Autopart International, which operates as an independent, wholly-owned subsidiary. AI's business serves the growing commercial market in addition to warehouse distributors and jobbers located throughout the Northeastern region of the United States.

The Company evaluates each of its segment's financial performance based on net sales and operating profit for purposes of making decisions and allocating resources. The accounting policies of the reportable segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies in Note 1.

The following table summarizes financial information for each of the Company's business segments for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 and July 15, 2006, respectively.

Management Overview

During the second quarter of fiscal 2007, we recorded earnings per diluted share of $0.64 compared to $0.59 for the same quarter of fiscal 2006. These results were primarily driven by increased sales and higher gross margin offset by an increase in certain fixed operating expenses. Although we continue to produce positive operating results and cash flow, we continue to experience lower trends in comparable store sales due in part to macroeconomic challenges. We have recently completed the business strategy review discussed last quarter and have begun to take further detailed steps toward the previously identified goals to increase our sales, earnings and return on invested capital.

The initial goals identified in connection with the business strategy review and disclosed last quarter included:

1. Drive sales to both “do-it-yourself,” or DIY, and “do-it-for-me,” or DIFM, customers;
2. Accelerate plans to reduce selling, general and administrative expenses, some of which are already underway;
3. Re-examine all capital projects; and
4. Begin implementation of certain initiatives identified in our strategy review.

First, we plan on increasing sales to both DIY and DIFM customers through improved parts availability. We plan to focus more on late model and foreign vehicles while returning our primary focus to the parts category. This enhanced parts availability will be funded partially from available working capital as we transition from other less productive inventory. Second, we are increasing our focus on the commercial business. Commercial sales represented approximately 26% of our total sales for both the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 compared to approximately 25% for both the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. At July 14, 2007, we operated commercial programs in 82% of our total stores, including all of the 100 AI stores, consistent with the prior year quarter. We will provide more details as initiatives are implemented. Third, we plan to improve the efficiency and sales productivity on our sales floor by streamlining certain product assortments located on the sales floor and reducing the frequency of changeover in product among other things.

In addition to increasing sales, we are focused on reducing selling, general and administrative expenses and improving return on invested capital. Subsequent to the end of our second quarter, a plan was announced to eliminate 250 positions at our store support center and other field support. We have also reduced the number of stores we plan to open, relocate and remodel for the remainder of 2007 and 2008. Additionally, we are in the process of reviewing our entire advertising area and have already identified and eliminated certain expenses and programs, including our Advance TV network, for which we were not achieving an acceptable return. Lastly, we have evaluated all of our planned capital investments in logistics, information technology and other support areas and eliminated those investments that did not demonstrate an acceptable return.

Average net sales per store and inventory turnover for the interim periods presented above were calculated using results of operations from the last 13 accounting periods.

Operating Segments

We conduct our operations in two reportable segments: Advance Auto Parts, or AAP, and Autopart International, or AI. The AAP segment is comprised of our store operations within the United States and Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, which operate under the trade names “Advance Auto Parts,” “Advance Discount Auto Parts” and “Western Auto.” The AI segment consists solely of the operations of Autopart International, which operates as an independent, wholly-owned subsidiary.

AAP Segment

At July 14, 2007, we operated 3,087 stores within the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. We operated 3,053 stores throughout 40 states in the Northeastern, Southeastern and Midwestern regions of the United States. These stores operated under the “Advance Auto Parts” trade name except for certain stores in the state of Florida, which operated under the “Advance Discount Auto Parts” trade name. These stores offer a broad selection of brand name and proprietary automotive replacement parts, accessories and maintenance items for domestic and imported cars and light trucks, with no significant concentration in any specific product area. In addition, we operated 34 stores under the “Western Auto” and “Advance Auto Parts” trade names, located primarily in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, or Offshore. The Western Auto stores offer automotive tires and service in addition to automotive parts, accessories and maintenance items.

The following table sets forth information about our stores, including the number of new, closed and relocated stores, during the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007. We lease approximately 81% of our stores.

AI Segment

At July 14, 2007, we operated 100 stores throughout New England and New York. These stores operated under the “Autopart International” trade name. These stores offer a broad selection of brand name and proprietary automotive replacement parts, accessories and maintenance items for domestic and imported cars and light trucks, with a greater focus on imported parts. AI primarily serves the commercial market from its retail locations and additionally through a wholesale distribution network.

The following table sets forth information about our stores, including the number of new, closed and relocated stores, during the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007.

We anticipate that we will add a total of approximately 190 to 200 new AAP and AI stores during 2007 primarily through new store openings.

Share-Based Payments

We use the Black-Scholes option-pricing model to value all stock options and stock appreciation rights, or SARs, and straight-line method to amortize this fair value as compensation cost over the requisite service period. Total share-based compensation expense included in selling, general and administrative expenses in our statements of operations for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $5.0 million and $10.4 million, respectively. The related income tax benefit was $1.9 million and $4.0 million for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, respectively. Total share-based compensation expense included in selling, general and administrative expenses in our statements of operations for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006 was $4.8 million and $9.9 million, respectively. The related income tax benefit was $1.8 million and $3.7 million for the twelve and twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006, respectively.

As of July 14, 2007, we have $28.8 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to non-vested fixed stock options, SARs and shares of restricted stock we expect to recognize over a weighted-average period of 2.0 years.

Critical Accounting Policies

Our financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting policies generally accepted in the United States of America. Our discussion and analysis of the financial condition and results of operations are based on these financial statements. The preparation of these financial statements requires the application of accounting policies in addition to certain estimates and judgments by our management. Our estimates and judgments are based on currently available information, historical results and other assumptions we believe are reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates. During the first and second quarters of fiscal 2007, we consistently applied the critical accounting policies discussed in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 30, 2006. For a complete discussion regarding these critical accounting policies, refer to this annual report on Form 10-K.

Components of Statement of Operations*Net Sales*

Net sales consist primarily of comparable store sales and new store net sales. We calculate comparable store sales based on the change in net sales starting once a store has been open for 13 complete accounting periods. We include relocations in comparable store sales from the original date of opening. We exclude from comparable store sales the net sales from the Offshore and AI stores.

Table of Contents*Cost of Sales*

Our cost of sales consists of merchandise costs, net of incentives under vendor programs, inventory shrinkage and warehouse and distribution expenses. Gross profit as a percentage of net sales may be affected by variations in our product mix, price changes in response to competitive factors and fluctuations in merchandise costs and vendor programs. We seek to avoid fluctuation in merchandise costs and instability of supply by entering into long-term purchase agreements with vendors when we believe it is advantageous. Our gross profit may not be comparable to those of our competitors due to differences in industry practice regarding the classification of certain costs. See Note 1 in our condensed consolidated financial statements for additional discussion of these costs.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses consist of store payroll, store occupancy (including rent), advertising expenses, other store expenses and general and administrative expenses, including salaries and related benefits of store support center team members, share-based compensation expense, store support center administrative office expenses, data processing, professional expenses and other related expenses.

The following table sets forth certain of our operating data expressed as a percentage of net sales for the periods indicated.

Twelve Weeks Ended July 14, 2007 Compared to Twelve Weeks Ended July 15, 2006

Net sales for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 were $1,169.9 million, an increase of $62.0 million, or 5.6%, as compared to net sales for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. The net sales increase was due to an increase in comparable store sales of 1.3% and contributions from our new AAP and AI stores opened within the last year. The comparable store sales increase was driven by an increase in average ticket sales and customer traffic in our do-it-for-me, or DIFM, business and an increase in average ticket sales by our do-it-yourself, or DIY, customers offset by a decrease in DIY customer count. AI produced sales of $33.9 million, an increase of $7.4 million, or 27.8%. AI's sales increase was primarily driven by our acceleration of new-store growth throughout 2006 and into the first two quarters of 2007.

Gross profit for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $562.9 million, or 48.1% of net sales, as compared to $527.4 million, or 47.6% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. The increase in gross profit as a percentage of net sales reflects favorable results achieved through category management, including improved procurement costs and a positive shift in sales mix, and lower logistics expense.

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased to $445.1 million, or 38.0% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007, from $416.9 million, or 37.6% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. As a percentage of net sales, selling, general and administrative expenses increased due primarily to an increase in certain fixed costs as a percentage of net sales during the quarter, including rent and depreciation, partially offset by reduced advertising expense. Our fixed expenses increased as a percentage of net sales during the quarter as a result of low comparable sales growth.

Operating income for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $117.8 million, or 10.1% of net sales, as compared to $110.4 million, or 10.0% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. This increase in operating income, as a percentage of net sales, was reflective of a more favorable gross profit partially offset by higher selling, general and administrative expenses as previously discussed. AAP produced operating income of $116.7 million, or 10.3% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 as compared to $109.0 million, or 10.1% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. AI generated an operating income of $1.1 million for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 as compared to operating income of $1.4 million for the same period last year. This decrease in operating income was primarily driven by additional expenses associated with the transition to AI's new distribution center and the reinvestment of resources to accelerate AI's store growth.

Interest expense for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $7.4 million, or 0.7% of net sales, as compared to $8.8 million, or 0.8% of net sales, for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. The decrease in interest expense is a result of lower average outstanding borrowings and lower average borrowing rates during the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 compared to the same period ended July 15, 2006.

Income tax expense for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $42.5 million, as compared to $38.7 million for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. Our effective income tax rate was 38.3% for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 compared to 38.1% for the same period ended July 15, 2006. As expected, our effective tax rate is slightly higher than comparable quarters as a result of adopting Financial Accounting Standards Board, or FASB, Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes," or FIN 48, at the beginning of our first quarter in 2007. For a complete discussion of the adoption of FIN 48, see Note 2 of our condensed consolidated financial statements.

We generated net income of $68.4 million, or $0.64 per diluted share, for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007, as compared to $62.9 million, or $0.59 per diluted share, for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006. As a percentage of net sales, net income for the twelve weeks ended July 14, 2007 was 5.8%, as compared to 5.7% for the twelve weeks ended July 15, 2006.

Twenty-Eight Weeks Ended July 14, 2007 Compared to Twenty-Eight Weeks Ended July 15, 2006

Net sales for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 were $2,638.0 million, an increase of $137.1 million, or 5.5%, as compared to net sales for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. The net sales increase was due to an increase in comparable store sales of 1.2% and contributions from our new AAP and AI stores opened within the last year. The comparable store sales increase was driven by an increase in average ticket sales and customer traffic in our do-it-for-me, or DIFM, business and an increase in average ticket sales by our do-it-yourself, or DIY, customers offset by a decrease in DIY customer count. AI produced sales of $69.9 million, an increase of $12.0 million, or 20.7%. AI's sales increase was primarily driven by our acceleration of new-store growth throughout 2006 and into the first two quarters of 2007.

Gross profit for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $1,272.3 million, or 48.2% of net sales, as compared to $1,192.5 million, or 47.7% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. The increase in gross profit as a percentage of net sales reflects favorable results achieved through category management, including improved procurement costs and a positive shift in sales mix, and lower logistics expense.

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased to $1,019.8 million, or 38.7% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, from $955.8 million, or 38.2% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. As a percentage of net sales, selling, general and administrative expenses increased due primarily to an increase in certain fixed costs as a percentage of net sales during the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, including rent and depreciation, partially offset by reduced advertising expense. Our fixed expenses increased as a percentage of net sales as a result of low comparable sales growth.

Table of Contents

Operating income for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $252.5 million, or 9.6% of net sales, as compared to $236.7 million, or 9.5% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. This increase in operating income, as a percentage of net sales, was reflective of a more favorable gross profit partially offset by higher selling, general and administrative expenses as previously discussed. AAP produced operating income of $253.1 million, or 9.9% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 as compared to $234.7 million, or 9.6% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. AI generated an operating loss of $0.6 million for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 as compared to operating income of $2.1 million for the same period last year. This decrease in operating income was primarily driven by less than anticipated sales during the first quarter of the year, additional expenses associated with the transition to AI's new distribution center and the reinvestment of resources to accelerate AI's store growth.

Interest expense for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $18.7 million, or 0.7% of net sales, as compared to $18.9 million, or 0.8% of net sales, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. The decrease in interest expense is a result of lower average outstanding borrowings and lower average borrowing rates during the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 compared to the same period ended July 15, 2006.

Income tax expense for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 was $90.2 million, as compared to $81.4 million for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. Our effective income tax rate was 38.4% for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 compared to 37.3% for the same period ended July 15, 2006. As expected, our effective tax rate is slightly higher than comparable periods as a result of adopting FASB Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes," or FIN 48, at the beginning of our first quarter in 2007. For a complete discussion of the adoption of FIN 48, see Note 2 of our condensed consolidated financial statements. Additionally, our effective tax rate for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006 was reflective of the favorable resolution of certain tax contingencies.

We generated net income of $144.5 million, or $1.35 per diluted share, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, as compared to $137.0 million, or $1.27 per diluted share, for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. As a percentage of net sales, net income was 5.5% for both the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 and the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary cash requirements include the purchase of inventory, capital expenditures, payment of cash dividends and contractual obligations. In addition, we have used available funds to repurchase shares of common stock under our stock repurchase program and to pay quarterly cash dividends. We have funded these requirements primarily through cash generated from operations supplemented by borrowings under our credit facilities as needed. We believe funds generated from our expected results of operations, available cash and cash equivalents and available borrowings under our revolving credit facility will be sufficient to fund our primary obligations for the next year.

At July 14, 2007, our cash and cash equivalents balance was $82.6 million, an increase of $71.5 million compared to December 30, 2006. This increase resulted from an increase in cash flow from operations and proceeds from the exercise of stock options partially offset by the continued investment in property and equipment, reduction in our revolving credit facility balance and return of capital to our shareholders through the payment of dividends and repurchase of common stock during the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007. At July 14, 2007, we had outstanding indebtedness primarily consisting of borrowings of $350.0 million under our revolving credit facility. Additionally, we had $66.8 million in letters of credit outstanding, which reduced our total availability under the revolving credit facility to $333.2 million.

During the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, we paid $19.1 million in dividends declared in the fourth quarter 2006 and first and second quarters of 2007. Subsequent to July 14, 2007, our Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend of $0.06 per share to be paid on October 5, 2007 to all common stockholders of record as of September 21, 2007.

Table of Contents

Capital Expenditures

Our primary capital requirements have been the funding of our continued store expansion program, including new store openings and store acquisitions, store relocations and remodels, inventory requirements, the construction and upgrading of distribution centers, the development and implementation of proprietary information systems and our acquisitions.

Our capital expenditures were $115.7 million for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007. These amounts included costs related to new store openings, the upgrade of our information systems, and remodels and relocations of existing stores. During the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, we opened an aggregate of 113 AAP and AI stores, remodeled 61 AAP stores and relocated 19 AAP stores. In 2007, we anticipate that our capital expenditures will be approximately $230 to $240 million, including an estimated $25 million for our ninth distribution center we expect to open in early 2009.

Our future capital requirements will depend in large part on the number of and timing for new stores we open or acquire within a given year and the number of stores we relocate or remodel. We anticipate adding an aggregate of approximately 190 to 200 new AAP and AI stores and relocating 35 AAP stores during 2007. After reducing the scope of our store remodel program earlier in the year, we are stopping the program until we have more time to measure the sales results and overall return from these remodels.

Vendor Financing Program

Historically, we have negotiated extended payment terms from suppliers that help finance inventory growth, and we believe that we will be able to continue financing much of our inventory growth through such extended payment terms. We have a short-term financing program with a bank for certain merchandise purchases. In substance, the program allows us to borrow money from the bank to finance purchases from our vendors. This program allows us to reduce further our working capital invested in current inventory levels and finance future inventory growth. Our revolving credit facility does not restrict availability under this program. At July 14, 2007, $154.7 million was payable to the bank by us under this program.

Stock Repurchase Program

During the third quarter of fiscal 2006, we repurchased 0.1 million shares of common stock at an aggregate cost of $3.9 million, or an average price of $40.86 per share. These shares were repurchased in accordance with our $300 million stock repurchase program authorized by our Board of Directors in 2005. The program allows us to repurchase our common stock on the open market or in privately negotiated transactions from time to time in accordance with the requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

At July 14, 2007, we had repurchased a total of 5.3 million shares of common stock under this program at an aggregate cost of $200.1 million, or an average price of $37.72 per share. All of the shares repurchased under the stock repurchase program, excluding the shares repurchased in the second quarter of 2007, have been previously retired.

Subsequent to July 14, 2007, our Board of Directors authorized a new $500 million stock repurchase program. The new program cancelled and replaced our previous $300 million stock repurchase program, which was nearly completed. As of August 22, 2007, we had repurchased an additional 4.9 million shares at an aggregate cost of $160.6 million, of which 3.7 million shares were repurchased under the new stock repurchase program at an aggregate cost of $118.3 million.

Table of ContentsAnalysis of Cash Flows

An analysis of our cash flows for the twenty-eight week period ended July 14, 2007 as compared to the twenty-eight week period ended July 15, 2006 is included below.

	Twenty-Eight Week Periods Ended
	July 14, 2007	July 15, 2006
	(in millions)
Cash flows from operating activities	$ 280.0	$ 257.4
Cash flows from investing activities	(111.3)	(137.7)
Cash flows from financing activities	(97.2)	(147.4)
Net increase (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	$ 71.5	$ (27.7)

Operating Activities

For the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, net cash provided by operating activities increased $22.6 million to $280.0 million, as compared to the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. Net income increased by $7.5 million during the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007 as compared to the comparable period in 2006. Our increase in net income reflects an $8.6 million increase in depreciation and amortization.

Changes in working capital also resulted in the following sources and uses of cash:

- a $7.2 million decrease in cash flows from excess tax benefits realized from the increase in exercise of stock options and reclassified to financing as a cash inflow;
- a $5.6 million decrease in cash flows from inventory, net of accounts payable reflective of added parts availability in selected stores and the build up of inventory in the new AI distribution center; and
- a $25.6 million increase in cash flows comprised of other movements in working capital, including the payment of a $6.3 million cash dividend accrued at December 30, 2006 and $4.8 million of property and equipment additions resulting from the change in accrued property and equipment.

Investing Activities

For the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, net cash used in investing activities decreased by $26.4 million to $111.3 million, as compared to the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006. Significant components of this decrease consisted of:

- a decrease in capital expenditures of $16.4 million resulting primarily from less spending on capital assets in our store locations, impact of the reduced scope in remodels and fewer relocations as compared to the comparable periods in prior year;
- a $12.5 million business acquisition payment in 2006; and
- a $5.6 million decrease in proceeds from sales of property and equipment and assets held for sale.

Financing Activities

For the twenty-eight weeks ended July 14, 2007, net cash used in financing activities decreased by $50.2 million to $97.2 million, as compared to the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 2006.

Cash flows from financing activities increased as result of:

- an $18.0 million increase in cash inflows under our vendor financing program;
- an increase of $22.0 million from the issuance of common stock, primarily resulting from the increase in exercise of stock options;

Table of Contents

- a $7.2 million cash inflow from excess tax benefits realized from the increase in exercise of stock options; and
- a decrease of $134.1 million in the repurchases of common stock.

Cash flows from financing activities decreased as result of:

- a $6.6 million cash outflow resulting from the timing of bank overdrafts;
- a $118.5 million net cash outflow from an increase in net payments on credit facilities; and
- $6.3 million of additional cash dividends paid due primarily to the timing in payments.

Off-Balance-Sheet Arrangements and Contractual Obligations

In addition to our revolving credit facility, we also utilize operating leases as another source of financing. The amounts payable under these operating leases, which are considered to be off-balance-sheet arrangements, are included in our schedule of contractual obligations below.

Our future contractual obligations related to long-term debt, operating leases and other contractual obligations at July 14, 2007 were as follows:

Contractual Obligations	Total	Fiscal 2007	Fiscal 2008	Fiscal 2009	Fiscal 2010	Fiscal 2011	Thereafter
(in thousands)

(1) We lease certain store locations, distribution centers, office space, equipment and vehicles. Our property leases generally contain renewal and escalation clauses and other lease concessions. These provisions are considered in our calculation of our minimum lease payments which are recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the applicable lease term. In accordance with SFAS No. 13, "Accounting for Leases," as amended by SFAS No. 29, "Determine Contingent Rental," any lease payments that are based upon an existing index or rate are included in our minimum lease payment calculations.

(2) For the purposes of this table, purchase obligations are defined as agreements that are enforceable and legally binding and that specify all significant terms, including: fixed or minimum quantities to be purchased; fixed, minimum or variable price provisions; and the approximate timing of the transaction. Our open purchase orders are based on current inventory or operational needs and are fulfilled by our vendors within short periods of time. We currently do not have minimum purchase commitments under our vendor supply agreements nor are our open purchase orders for goods and services binding agreements. Accordingly, we have excluded open purchase orders from this table. The purchase obligations consist of the amount of fuel required to be purchased by us under our fixed price fuel supply agreement and certain commitments for training and development. These agreements expire in February 2008 and March 2008, respectively.

(3) Primarily includes employee benefit accruals, restructuring and closed store liabilities and deferred income taxes for which no contractual payment schedule exists and we expect the payments to occur beyond twelve months from July 14, 2007. Additionally, other long-term liabilities included $16.5 million of unrecognized income tax benefits as a result of our adoption of FIN 48 on December 31, 2006. The amount of unrecognized tax benefits did not materially change from December 31, 2006 to July 14, 2007. During the next 12 months, it is possible that we could conclude on $3 to $4 million of the contingencies associated with these tax uncertainties, a portion of which may be settled in cash. We do not anticipate any significant impact on our liquidity and capital resources due to the conclusion of these tax matters.

Long Term Debt

Our primary source of financing is a $750 million unsecured five-year revolving credit facility with our subsidiary, Advance Stores Company, Incorporated, serving as the borrower. This facility replaced the term loans and revolver under our previous credit facility. Additionally, the facility provides for the issuance of letters of credit with a sub limit of $300 million and swingline loans in an amount not to exceed $50 million. We may also request that the total revolving commitment be increased by an amount not exceeding $250 million during the term of the credit agreement. Voluntary prepayments and voluntary reductions of the revolving balance are permitted in whole or in part, at our option, in minimum principal amounts as specified in the revolving credit facility.

As of July 14, 2007, we had outstanding $350.0 million under the revolver and had $66.8 million in letters of credit outstanding, which reduced availability under the revolver to $333.2 million. At July 14, 2007, we also have interest rate swaps in place that effectively fix our interest rate exposure on approximately 64% of our debt.

The interest rates on the borrowings under the revolving credit facility will be based, at our option, on an adjusted LIBOR rate, plus a margin, or an alternate base rate, plus a margin. The current margin is 0.75% and 0.0% per annum for the adjusted LIBOR and alternate base rate borrowings, respectively. A commitment fee will be charged on the unused portion of the revolver, payable in arrears. The current commitment fee rate is 0.150% per annum. Under the terms of the revolving credit facility, the interest rate spread and commitment fee will be based on our credit rating. The revolving facility terminates on October 5, 2011.

The revolving credit facility is fully and unconditionally guaranteed by Advance Auto Parts, Inc. The facility contains covenants restricting the ability of us and our subsidiaries to, among other things, (1) create, incur or assume additional debt (including hedging arrangements), (2) incur liens or engage in sale-leaseback transactions, (3) make loans and investments, (4) guarantee obligations, (5) engage in certain mergers, acquisitions and asset sales, (6) engage in transactions with affiliates, (7) change the nature of our business and the business conducted by its subsidiaries and (8) change our holding company status. The revolving credit facility also provides for customary events of default, including non-payment defaults, covenant defaults and cross-defaults to our other material indebtedness.

We are required to comply with financial covenants in the revolving credit facility with respect to (a) a maximum leverage ratio and (b) a minimum consolidated coverage ratio. We were in compliance with the above covenants under the revolving credit facility at July 14, 2007.

Credit Ratings

At July 14, 2007, we had a credit rating from Standard & Poor's of BB+ and a credit rating of Ba1 from Moody's Investor Service. The current pricing grid used to determine our borrowing rates under our revolving credit facility is based on such credit ratings. If these credit ratings decline, our interest expense may increase. Conversely, if these credit ratings improve, our interest expense may decrease.

Seasonality

Our business is somewhat seasonal in nature, with the highest sales occurring in the spring and summer months. In addition, our business can be affected by weather conditions. While unusually heavy precipitation tends to soften sales as elective maintenance is deferred during such periods, extremely hot or cold weather tends to enhance sales by causing automotive parts to fail at an accelerated rate.

New Accounting Pronouncements

Effective December 31, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of FIN 48. FIN 48 clarifies the accounting and reporting for income taxes recognized in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, or SFAS, No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." The interpretation prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in income tax returns. As a result of the adoption of FIN 48 on December 31, 2006, we recorded an increase of $2.3 million to the liability for unrecognized tax benefits and a corresponding decrease in our balance of retained earnings. For a complete discussion of the adoption of FIN 48, see Note 2 of our condensed consolidated financial statements.

Table of Contents

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities." SFAS No. 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. SFAS No. 159 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. We are currently evaluating the impact of SFAS No. 159.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 158, "Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans, an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R)." SFAS No. 158 requires recognition of the overfunded or underfunded status of defined benefit postretirement plans as an asset or liability in the statement of financial position and to recognize changes in that funded status in comprehensive income in the year in which the changes occur. SFAS No. 158 also requires measurement of the funded status of a plan as of the date of the statement of financial position. We adopted the recognition provisions of SFAS No. 158 on December 30, 2006. SFAS No. 158 is effective for the measurement date provisions for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2008. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting the measurement date provisions of SFAS No. 158.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements." SFAS No. 157 clarifies the definition of fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands the disclosures on fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. We are currently evaluating the impact of SFAS No. 157.
