ORIX Joins Forces with US Investment Bank

TOKYO, Japan October 31, 2005 ORIX Corporation (TSE: 8591; NYSE: IX), a leading integrated financial services group, today announced that its board of directors has approved an agreement to establish and become the majority shareholder of a holding company that will own the business of Houlihan Lokey Howard & Zukin, Inc. (Houlihan Lokey), an international investment bank, and the assets and operations of the Corporate Finance Group of ORIX's wholly-owned subsidiary ORIX USA Corporation.

The two companies joined forces after confirming the opportunities to leverage each other's strengths to grow ORIX USA's corporate finance activities and expand the investment banking business of Houlihan Lokey, both in the United States and internationally.

Yoshihiko Miyauchi, CEO of ORIX, said, "This combination marks one more milestone in our dynamic evolution in financial services and highlights our long-term strategy of expanding our operations in the United States. We hope to both accelerate the growth in our existing operations and capitalize on Houlihan Lokey's expertise to pursue investment banking opportunities in the US and other parts of the world."

Commenting on the transaction, Jeffrey Werbalowsky, Co-Chief Executive Officer of Houlihan Lokey said, "We are excited to leverage the impressive international infrastructure of ORIX to expand our investment banking, financial restructuring, and valuation product lines internationally, and particularly in Asia. We look forward to now having additional financial resources and expertise to offer our clients around the world." Scott Beiser, Houlihan Lokey's other Co-Chief Executive Officer added, "In addition to accelerating the international expansion of our three advisory businesses, we will be in a unique position to grow the business of the Corporate Finance Group by extending a variety of financing alternatives to US businesses."

A new holding company will be established to own the two entities; it will initially have over $500 million in equity and total assets of approximately $2.5 billion. ORIX USA will own approximately 70% of the new holding company, with Houlihan Lokey's current shareholders owning the remaining 30% share. The two businesses in the new entity will continue to operate independently under their respective brand names: Houlihan Lokey Howard & Zuki for the investment banking business and the ORIX USA Corporate Finance Group for the corporate finance business. The combined enterprise will have approximately 800 employees and operate from 10 locations in the United States and Europe when it expects to begin operations in the first quarter of 2006.
