On the evening of December 13, 2012, Intermec, Inc. began using the following customer communication letter form.

Dear [Customer]

On December 10, 2012 Honeywell and Intermec announced a definitive agreement under which Intermec agreed to be acquired by Honeywell International Inc. I believe this is a good thing for customers because it will bring together our history of innovation and engineering expertise, global reach and market leading products and solutions with that of Honeywell, and create a combined organization that is better able to compete for your business.

The transaction is subject to the approval of Intermec stockholders, regulatory approvals and customary closing terms and conditions and is expected to close by the end of the second quarter of 2013.

Until the deal closes, there will be no changes to day-to-day business operations as far as we are concerned. We remain committed to serving you to the best of our ability, at the same high levels as we have in the past.

We, at Intermec, appreciate your support and loyalty as our customer. If approved, this transaction will combine two complementary businesses into a market leader with the scale and resources to better compete for your business, and to serve you. As the transaction progresses we will keep you updated. We appreciate your continued support as we head into 2013.

Sincerely,

Jim McDonnell

SVP, Global Sales and Marketing
