Talking Points About Our Partnership With Penn Liberty Bank

Announcement

We announced that we've signed a definitive agreement to merge Penn Liberty Bank into WSFS Bank.

As two financial institutions with strong footholds in the Delaware Valley, this partnership will further secure our future and our collective ability to serve our community.

Penn Liberty Bank opened in 2004 and their key strength has been a strong local presence. Commercial lending is Penn Liberty's primary lending focus, with an emphasis on establishing commercial account relationships with businesses based in the Greater Philadelphia Region.

Penn Liberty Bank has 11 branches (7 in Chester County and 4 in Montgomery County) so our partnership will continue to increase our presence in Pennsylvania.

Transaction Notes of Interest

Our partnership with Penn Liberty Bank is consistent with our strategic growth plans in southeastern Pennsylvania and will meaningfully add to our office network. Following the merger, our Customers will have access to 70 offices in Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Upon completion of the merger, Patrick Ward, Chairman and CEO of Penn Liberty Bank will join the WSFS Financial Corporation Board of Directors and assume the role of Executive Vice President and Pennsylvania Market President. Brian Zwaan, President, Chief Operating Officer and Chief Lending Officer of Penn Liberty Bank will also join the WSFS Senior Management team as Senior Vice President, Pennsylvania Commercial Banking. Both will provide great leadership for our Pennsylvania expansion plans.

Transactions like this often have overlapping positions and there will be some displacements. All Human Capital decisions will be communicated by the end of Q1, 2016. Everyone will be given opportunities throughout our locations, as well as at other offices and divisions. For those ultimately displaced, WSFS Bank will work closely with those individuals; severance and outplacement assistance will be provided.

Timing and Approvals

The transaction is subject to normal conditions and approvals including regulatory approvals.

The transaction will likely close in the 3rd Quarter, 2016.

We will be working together over that period to further cultivate our partnership and mutually forge the path ahead.

Why is this good?

Penn Liberty Bank brings a seasoned team of commercial bankers who have been working together providing community banking services in the Greater Philadelphia area for over the past two decades. They will also help strengthen our network and add important relationships to our banking franchise.

Following the merger, WSFS will have 24 locations in the demographically strong and concentrated Delaware, Chester and Montgomery Counties.

We share a culture of commitment to our Customers, Communities, and Associates.

We will enrich our human capital, by bringing more talent into our organization.

WSFS is stronger than ever and we continue to grow, create jobs and invest in our communities. We expand our presence as one of the only remaining independent super-community banking organizations left in the rapidly consolidating southeastern Pennsylvania market.

Integration of Penn Liberty Bank

We will work together for a smooth integration. Given the fact that we have done this before successfully, we are confident it will be a seamless process, but we will need your patience and assistance to make sure it is done well.
