Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On November 11, 2009, Franklin Covey Co. (the Company) entered into a third modification agreement with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (the Lender) on its line of credit facility (the Third Modification Agreement). The Lender also provides the majority of the Company's day-to-day banking services.

Under terms of the Third Modification Agreement, the funded debt to earnings and fixed charge coverage ratios were relaxed for the quarterly measurement periods ending in November 2009 and February 2010. The other financial covenants of the Company made pursuant to the line of credit, which include a limitation on capital expenditures and a defined amount of minimum net worth, remain unchanged. In the event of noncompliance with these financial covenants and other defined events of default, the Lender is entitled to certain remedies, including acceleration of the repayment of amounts outstanding on the line of credit.

The Third Modification Agreement also increases the effective interest rate on the line of credit facility from LIBOR plus 2.00 percent to LIBOR plus 3.50 percent, effective on the date of the Third Modification Agreement, and modifies certain provisions regarding the expiration date of letters of credit issued under the line of credit. The Company is also required to deliver monthly financial reports to the Lender through March 14, 2010, which is the maturity date of the line of credit facility.

The foregoing description of the Third Modification Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the text of the Third Modification Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.1 attached hereto.

The original credit agreements with the Lender are described in further detail in, and the corresponding agreements are attached as exhibits to, the Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 19, 2007.
