Promius™ Pharma and Valeant form collaboration to market Cloderm® cream in the United States
Hyderabad, India, and Mississauga, Ontario, Canada, April 1, 2011:

Promius™ Pharma, LLC, an affiliate of Dr. Reddy's Laboratories (NYSE:RDY), and Valeant Pharmaceuticals International, Inc. (NYSE: VRX) (TSX: VRX) today jointly announced that they have signed a collaboration agreement for Cloderm® (clocortolone pivalate 0.1%) Cream. Under the agreement, Promius™ Pharma will make an upfront payment and pay future royalties as the consideration for the right to manufacture, distribute and market Cloderm® Cream in the United States, effective immediately. The financial terms and conditions of the agreement have not been disclosed.

Raghav Chari, Senior Vice President, Proprietary Products and Head of Promius™ Pharma, said, "We are very pleased to have formed a partnership with Valeant to market Cloderm® Cream in the United States, where Promius™ Pharma is building a strong commercial and clinical presence. Cloderm® Cream is a time-tested product and has strong recognition among dermatologists. The addition of this product will bolster our ongoing efforts to build a successful prescription branded franchise in the US, and specifically contribute to Promius' goal to become a leader in the field of medical dermatology.

About Cloderm® Cream

Cloderm® (clocortolone pivalate) Cream, 0.1% is a topical mid potent steroid product indicated for the relief of the inflammatory and pruritic manifestations of corticosteroid-responsive dermatoses. Cloderm Cream is available in a 45-gram and 90-gram tube, and in a 30-gram or 75-gram pump, by prescription only. For more information, please contact your healthcare provider or Promius™ Pharma.

Important Safety Information

The most common adverse events associated with Cloderm® Cream include dryness, irritation, folliculitis, itching, and burning. Cloderm® Cream is contraindicated in patients who are hypersensitive to any of the ingredients of this product. As with all topical corticosteroids, systemic absorption can produce reversible HPA-axis suppression. Dr Reddy s expands its R&D centre in Cambridge, United Kingdom
Hyderabad, India and Cambridge, UK, April 11, 2011

Dr. Reddy s Laboratories (NYSE: RDY) today announced the opening of its newly expanded Chirotech Technology Centre at Cambridge Science Park, UK where Chirotech has been based for the last 20 years. The new 33,000 sq ft facility is purpose built for laboratories and offices and has been fitted to Dr. Reddy s specific requirements for chemistry, biology and analytics.

The additional capacity will help facilitate an initial doubling of scientific staff in Chirotech while providing for further capacity additions in future. It will help strengthen core capabilities in biocatalysis and chemocatalysis, build capabilities in fast growing segments like Activated mPEGs and peptides, and allow development of other areas of expertise in chemistry and processing for use in the pharmaceutical industry. The new facility is part of the Custom Pharmaceutical Services (CPS) Business Unit of Dr. Reddy s and will offer these expanded services to its customers worldwide. Dr. Reddy s was assisted in setting up the new facility by East of England Investor Development (EEID*), the regional body that supports overseas investors in the region, funded by the East of England Development Agency. Commenting on the expansion, G V Prasad Vice Chairman and CEO, Dr. Reddy s said, We are delighted to have secured this excellent facility at the Cambridge Science Park. Being located in this historic University City and in one of the leading European centres for Science and Innovation makes it the ideal location to expand and develop our research, development and technology capabilities. The facility will be a centre of excellence for chemistry and reinforces our commitment to building a leading edge research organization to meet the innovation needs of our customers.

* EEID is an outsourced organization which delivers inward investment and development support on behalf of the East of England Development Agency (EEDA) and UK Trade & Investment.
