Dennis E. By combining with Wheaton River, Coeur, already the world's leading primary silver producer, will also become a significant gold producer and the fourth largest precious metals company in North America. Wheaton River has an exciting portfolio of mines and projects that will fit well with our own. Together, we will have four growth projects that will significantly add to the company's gold and silver production in the near-term and provide a powerful platform for future growth."

Mr. Wheeler continued, "We expect this transaction to be immediately accretive to Coeur shareholders on the basis of net asset value, cash flow and earnings. We are fully committed to completing our acquisition so that all shareholders can begin to benefit from this compelling transaction."
