NEWS RELEASE

PROLOGIS FORMS FUNDS TO ACQUIRE SHARES OF KEYSTONE PROPERTY TRUST FOR A TOTAL CONSIDERATION OF $1.6 BILLION

Transaction Enhances ProLogis Position in Key Markets of Northern New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, Indianapolis and Miami; ProLogis Raises Over $425 Million of Private Equity for New Property Funds to Support Acquisition; Assets Under Management in ProLogis Property Funds to Grow to $7.6 Billion from $6.0 Billion

DENVER May 3, 2004 ProLogis (NYSE: PLD), a leading global provider of distribution facilities and services, announced today that Keystone Property Trust (NYSE: KTR) has agreed, subject to its shareholder approval, to be acquired by a partnership of ProLogis and certain affiliates of investment funds managed by Eaton Vance Management (the Eaton Vance Fund Affiliates) for $23.80 per share, with a total consideration of $1.6 billion including assumed liabilities and expenses. Eaton Vance is a Boston-based investment manager with over $83 billion of assets under management. The transaction further strengthens ProLogis position as the largest public U.S.-based global provider of distribution facilities and services, bringing the total distribution facilities operating and under development from 247 million square feet in 70 global markets to over 280 million square feet in 71 markets.

ProLogis and the Eaton Vance Fund Affiliates have formed five separate entities to purchase 22.9 million square feet of Keystone's bulk industrial properties valued at $1.37 billion. The Eaton Vance Fund Affiliates will own 80% and ProLogis will own 20% of each of the entities. It is anticipated that each entity will have targeted leverage of approximately 60% to 65%. Consistent with existing ProLogis property funds, ProLogis will receive management and performance incentive fees from the newly formed entities. ProLogis will purchase directly those remaining assets owned by Keystone and Keystone's joint venture interests in properties, totaling 10.9 million square feet, for $290 million. The transaction is anticipated to be accretive to ProLogis by approximately $0.04 to $0.05 in per share funds from operations in 2005.

Strengthened Position in Key Logistics Markets

K. Dane Brooksher, chairman and chief executive officer of ProLogis, said, "We are pleased to be adding Keystone's exceptional customers and properties to the platform ProLogis has today. Keystone's properties provide a strategic fit that strengthens ProLogis position in key logistics markets and expands our operating platform to better serve our global customers. Specifically, this transaction significantly enhances our positions in New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, Indianapolis and the Miami airport market - four of the most important logistics markets in the United States.

Mr. Brooksher added that Keystone brings to ProLogis tremendous product and customer synergies through its high-quality, low-finish, bulk distribution portfolio. Several of Keystone's major customers are among ProLogis' top customers, including Exel Logistics, The Home Depot, Procter & Gamble, APL Logistics and Sears Logistics Services. Adding Keystone's development pipeline to our operating platform allows us to better meet customers distribution requirements and creates opportunities to expand the pipeline of potential contributions to other ProLogis property funds. Additionally, because ProLogis owns and manages facilities in each of Keystone's major markets, we expect to leverage the ProLogis Operating System® consisting of property managers, marketing, leasing and global services professionals to achieve leasing and overhead economies, he said.

Significant Growth in Assets Under Management and New Capital Relationships

We are pleased to add the Eaton Vance Fund Affiliates as well as Keystone's existing joint venture partners to our roster of high-quality capital sources. The addition of another $1.6 billion of assets will bring us to a total of $7.6 billion in assets under management in ProLogis property funds. This growth in property funds, combined with ProLogis' economies of scale, will accelerate growth in management fee income with only a minimal increase in operating expenses, concluded Mr. Brooksher.

Morgan Stanley and Citigroup Global Markets Inc. acted as financial advisors for the Eaton Vance Fund Affiliates and ProLogis. Mayer, Brown, Rowe & Maw, LLP and Goulston & Storrs, P.C. acted as legal advisors for ProLogis and the Eaton Vance Affiliates, respectively.
