Q What are the benefits of this transaction?

A This transaction provides compelling value for our stockholders.

For our clients, this transaction will provide the following benefits:

Expanded client base – As a part of FNF, we will have the opportunity to provide technology, products and services to a larger client base, and will be able to offer a wider array of offerings to our existing clients. Providing superior support, technology, products, data and services to our current and new customers is extremely important to our future success.

Financial strength – The enhanced company will benefit from an expanded client base and the backing of a strong, financially stable company.

A stronger company – The combination will create a stronger partner that provides greater flexibility, broader product offerings, enhanced financial stability and opportunities to generate revenue. This combination will further enhance operating efficiencies, so we can deliver the highest possible value to our clients.

Integrating LPS' assets into the FNF organization is the best way to position us for future growth and long-term success.

Q Is LPS being acquired by FNF?

A Yes. As a result of this transaction, LPS and FNF's ServiceLink operation will be combined in a new entity owned by FNF.

Q Why is this transaction taking place?

A We believe this transaction is in the best interest of our employees, clients and shareholders.

Q When will the transaction close? What are the next steps in the process?

A This announcement is the first step in the process. Next, the shareholders will vote on the transaction. The transaction is also subject to regulatory and other customary closing conditions. If these conditions are met, we expect the transaction will close in the fourth quarter of 2013.

Q Can I reach out to employees at FNF or ServiceLink to discuss this transaction?

A Until the transaction is closed, we must continue to operate as independent businesses. Unless otherwise instructed, please do not contact employees of FNF or ServiceLink regarding this transaction.

Employees and the Company

Q Who will lead the expanded company?

A We anticipate announcing the management structure and other organizational changes in the near future.

Q Who leads FNF?

A George Scanlon is the CEO of FNF, and Bill Foley is the Executive Chairman of FNF's Board of Directors.

Q Is FNF a publicly traded company? If so, what is its stock symbol?

A Yes, FNF is a publicly traded company. It is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol: FNF.

Q Will the headquarters of the new entity remain in Jacksonville, Fla.?

A Yes.

Employee Benefits

Q Will my medical benefits change?

A There will be no immediate change to the LPS benefits program. After the close of the transaction, we anticipate employees will have the opportunity to participate in the FNF benefits program.

Q Can I still make contributions to LPS' 401(k) program?

A Yes. The LPS 401(k) program will continue to operate as it does today. After the close of the transaction, we anticipate employees will have the opportunity to participate in the FNF 401(k) plan. More details will be provided after the transaction closes.

Q Can I still make contributions to the LPS Employee Stock Purchase Plan (ESPP)?

A Employees who are currently contributing to the LPS ESPP may continue to make contributions to the LPS ESPP through June 30, 2013. After this date, previously scheduled company matches will be made; however, employees will no longer be able to make contributions to the ESPP.

Employees not currently enrolled in the ESPP may not enroll in the program. Employees currently making contributions to the LPS ESPP may not increase their contribution amount.

After the close of the transaction, we anticipate employees will have the opportunity to participate in the FNF ESPP. More details will be provided after the transaction closes.

Q Were the salary increases, LPS ESPP and 401(k) matches suspended in anticipation of this transaction? Will they be reinstated?

A The suspension of the salary increases and matches to the ESPP and 401(k) were a necessary action to support the future of our company and were not related to this transaction.

As previously stated, we hope this is a temporary change, and we continue to make necessary changes to our business to work toward that goal. We continue to review this on a monthly basis. As employees will not be able to contribute to the ESPP after June 30, matches to the ESPP will not be reinstated.

Q What will happen to my LPS stock and equity awards in the merger?

A Each share of LPS common stock, including those held by employees, will be entitled to receive $16.625 in cash and 0.65224 shares of FNF common stock. However, that exchange ratio is subject to adjustment under various scenarios as provided in the merger agreement for the transaction. The proxy statement that we will file will contain more information on how the exchange ratio can adjust, as well as the manner in which FNF can elect to increase the cash portion of the merger consideration and reduce the stock portion of the consideration. FNF will not issue fractional shares, and any fractional share amounts will instead be paid in cash.

Each option outstanding immediately prior to the closing of the Merger will vest and be net settled by reducing the number of shares subject to the option by the number of shares required to pay the exercise price and applicable tax withholdings, and the LPS shares issued upon net settlement of those options will then receive the same merger consideration as other outstanding shares of LPS common stock.

Each restricted stock outstanding immediately prior to the Merger will vest (and all performance conditions will be deemed met at target level) and those restricted shares will then receive the same merger consideration as other outstanding shares of LPS common stock (subject to applicable tax withholdings).

Q What will happen to shares in my ESPP account?

A Each employee's accumulated ESPP account (both participant and matching contributions) will be used to purchase shares of LPS common stock, and those shares will then receive the same merger consideration as other outstanding shares of LPS common stock.

All matching contributions that would have been credited to an employee's account after closing will be paid to ESPP participants in cash as soon as practical after closing.
